CATHOLIC SCHOOLS OPEN

Large Turnout of Pupils to the Parochial Schools—Notre Dame Academy Opens Wednesday

With the ending of the summer season the various activities of the Catholic churches of the city have been resumed. Important meetings of the many societies and sodalities are being held; committees are being formed to carry on parish activities; important announcements have been made by the spiritual directors of church bodies and the parochial schools have been opened. The parochial school of St. Patrick's opened last Monday with an overflowing attendance and the schools of the Immaculate Conception, St. Michael's and St. Peter's opened this morning. All are fully attended.

Parochial School Opening

It was announced at all the masses of the Immaculate Conception church yesterday that the school would begin with a special mass this morning at 8 and the parents of the parish were urged to send all the children. Accordingly, there was a large crowd of juveniles at the mass this morning which was celebrated by Rev. Dennis A. Sullivan, O. S. A. Many of the parents also were in attendance. Immediately after the religious ceremony the children were ranged in various groups and were marched to the school rooms to which they were assigned according to grade. The schools looked unusually sanitary and refreshing, having been thoroughly renovated during the vacation period. The old floors had been replaced by beautiful floors of maple, the walls had been retinted and all the paint had been freshened. With a full attendance and under improved conditions this splendid educational establishment has opened what promises to be one of the most notable seasons in its history.

St. Michael's parochial school opened this morning after the 8.30 mass, the children going to their various school rooms at the close of the services. As in the case of the Immaculate Conception, St. Michael's schools are rounding out a quarter of a century of existence, but they are thoroughly renovated during the vacation period and prepared for each successive season.

St. Peter's comparatively new school building also presented a busy appearance this morning when the many school rooms were filled with the throngs that responded to the announcement of school opening. There was no formal church service but special prayers were said by the teachers and the routine school work was commenced under most favorable auspices.

St. Patrick's

St. Patrick's parish school opened last week.

A large class of the children of St. Patrick's parish is being prepared at present for confirmation which will be given Sept. 28 by Bishop Anderson. The sacrament will be received in the church at 2 p. m. Announcements regarding preparation for the event were made at all the masses yesterday. It was also announced that a commemorative mass will be celebrated for the repose of the soul of John P. Saunders next Thursday morning at 8 a. m.

A largely attended meeting of the Holy Name society was held last evening to make plans for the coming season. Remarks were made by the president and the spiritual director and many future activities were outlined. Notre Dame academy will open Wednesday of this week. Preceding the school organization proper the usual religious services will be held in the chapel of the academy.

St. Peter's

One of the largest and most enthusiastic meetings in the history of the Holy Name society of St. Peter's parish was held in the new school hall, Gorham street, last evening. There was a great deal of enthusiasm which reached a climax when the members rose in a body and unanimously requested the pastor, Rev. D. J. Kolesher, Ph. D., to assume the dual duties of spiritual director and treasurer. The request was met by a gracious speech in which he outlined the duties of the members and urged them to follow their early resolutions without faltering. At the conclusion of his remarks he was enthusiastically applauded. President Ward, speaking for the members of the society, pledged the loyalty of the body towards their new director who has always manifested a very special interest in the society and in all relating to it. During the routine business of the meeting final arrangements were made for the Harvest dance which will be held Friday, Sept. 18, at Lincoln hall. Action on the usual quarterly communion was deferred until the next formal meeting, Sunday evening, Oct. 4. The officers and consultants are displaying great activity and the society bids fair to eclipse any previous records during the coming season. Rev. Dr. Kolesher, the pastor of St. Peter's is on his retreat this week at Brighton seminary.

LET WIFE ELOPE WITH HIS BROTHER, IT'S SAID—THREE IN JAIL UNDER WHITE SLAVE LAW

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 14.—Stranger even than the first aspect of the case is the latest development in the elopement of Claire L. Chennault with the 17-year-old bride of his younger brother William. Claire formerly was principal of the Dulch high school.

William had been married only two weeks, and in taking the bride to Chicago and then to Berlin, Wis., where both were found working as farm hands, Claire abandoned a wife and baby.

The elopers were arrested in Berlin, charged with violation of the Mann white slave act. Now William has been arrested on a like charge. All three are in jail here. United States Attorney G. W. Jack caused William's arrest on a charge that the elopement was with the connivance of William himself.

William, it is said, married Miss May Griffin to save his brother from summary punishment threatened to the school principal by her brothers. She had been a pupil under Claire Chennault. She is a handsome girl, and her family stands high socially.

On leaving his place as principal of the high school, Claire went to Oklahoma as an instructor in the State university. He married there. The Griffin family demanded his return here. Then, it is said, his brother William sought to mend matters by offering, since Claire was already married, to wed Miss Griffin himself. He did so, but it is alleged he soon stepped out of the way and winked at the elopement of his wife and his brother.

The younger Chennault was until recently a University of Louisiana student.

PRESIDENT'S SANCTION

TO WAR REVENUE BILL AWAITED IN WASHINGTON—LEVY ON FREIGHT TRANSPORTATION

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—Chairman Underwood and other house administration leaders who will guide the war revenue bill through that body today awaited President Wilson's return from New Hampshire. They hope to have the president's sanction to the bill, particularly the proposed three per cent. tax on freight transportation charges.

Mr. Underwood has arranged to confer with the president on his return tomorrow and to use him to openly express his approval of the plan to put a levy on freight transportation. The president will be informed that opponents of the proposal are demanding a party caucus. In the place of the freight tax its opponents would levy a larger tax on beer, a tax on whiskies and distilled liquors which was not contemplated in the committee bill and, perhaps, stamp and inheritance taxes.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

NEW SHOW AT THE OPERA HOUSE

Today marks the opening of the second week of pictures and vaudeville at the Opera House and the new array of talent is even better than that of last week. Topping the vaudeville bill is the Marimbaphone. These gifted artists are six in number and their classic renditions of different numbers on the Marimbaphone have won for them laurels on the various big time circuits. The Lawson Sisters with their novel dances and songs will form another popular assembly. Knight Brothers and Savatelli will amuse in a novelty talking and dancing act, while the Du Quene Comedy Four will furnish fun of the same type that made Francis and Goodwin such strong favorites last week.

As a feature photo offering, Daniel Dawn in the famous International romance, "One Of Our Girls," by the noted dramatist, Bronson Howard. Miss Hazel Dawn is well known to local theatre-goers having scored a big hit in that play with the "Pink Lady," and she will be supported by a most interesting piece of photography with the all star cast of the Famous Players studio. Remember, the show is three times daily, 2, 5.30 and 8.30 respectively and that the Gorham street box office is open from 9 a. m. to 10 p. m. for the sale of seats and reservations of same for the season, which will also be accepted by mail or telephone 261.

H. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

Moss and Frye, those dynamic comedians, who glory in their own original version of burlesque, will be featured at the H. F. Keith theatre today, tomorrow and Wednesday, and they should succeed not only in rallying to their support all of the friends they have made in past seasons, but in getting many others who are sure to like what they will offer. Moss and Frye are distinctive, if ever a singer and actor were united, their personalities are usually enough, their personations are of colored persons, Moss being the inimitable luxurious person who never quite shakes off his sovereign airs. Frye, let it be said, are all of the imaginary kind, as is shown him at the conclusion of the act by the dapper little Frye. The singing of the two is a sweet number with obligato. It is a sweet, neat, trim little act, which will make special appeal to those who are musically inclined. Johnnie D. Crane, a fully trained comedian, a singer, a man and a woman are singers and dancers of note. They also serve some of the very latest of funny stuff. Miss Crane is the possessor of a most varied wardrobe, and she is rated as a genuinely beautiful woman. The Welles, Leveque company of comedy cyclists is said to be the equal of the famous O'Hearn troupe. Not a thing they do but that savors very strongly of real funmaking. Their knockabout stunts are not only dangerous, but they are of a highly spectacular sort. In addition to these four excellent acts there will be offered four feature films, headed by the noteworthy Hearst-Selig News Pictorial. New war pictures taken at the seat of the great European conflagration will be shown.

For the second half of the week the feature will be furnished by a five-reel picture, "The Call of the North," with Robert Edison and a splendid company playing this. Edward, who has always been a prime favorite here, will be seen in his best known part, that of "Red Trent," the young American engineer who incurs the enmity of the factor of the Hudson Bay colony and who is sent on La Long Traverse. The scenes of this splendid picture are laid in Canada, about the Hudson bay region. It is a thriller, a thriller put forward in the best manner of the Lasky company. The vaudeville feature will be supplied by the Orpheus Comedy Four, a first-rate comedy singing organization. The Solimines, a boy and girl, play a violin and a piano admirably, and Clara Illing is a singing comedienne of repute. Lynch and Williams, a pair of boy jugglers, offer a startlingly original act, replete with electrical effects. Performances begin at 2 and 7 and 9 p. m. and continue for two hours. Phone 28.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

The first real acid test of the Merrimack Square Theatre stock company's personality will come this afternoon and in fact the entire week when they will appear in Margaret Beland's famous troupe play, "The Awakening of Helena Richter," at this popular theatre. So much has been said and written concerning this particular bill that patrons are looking forward, anticipating something out of the ordinary. And well they might, for even those who have been privileged to witness a rehearsal, declare it will be by far the best offering in which the company have yet appeared.

Performances will be given daily at 2 and 8 and seats are now on sale at the box office. Tickets may be reserved by phone 2653 and these will be held until 1.15 afternoon and 7.45 evening. Subscription list open.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC

Announcement is made that the Academy of Music will close for three days during the preparation of an entirely new and distinctly different policy.

The house will reopen on Thursday afternoon with the new policy. The exact nature of the change contemplated had not yet been made to the public but will be announced tomorrow or Wednesday.

THEATRE VOYONS

"On Lonesome Mountain," a two part story of life in the Kentucky hills, will be the feature picture at the Theatre today. This story is full of life from start to finish with many unusual scenes.

A new feature for today will be the "Pathe Weekly." This picture will be changed twice a week. All the news while it is news.

PLAYED DREARY FINISH

Lowell and Manchester Burlesqued Final Games Before a Small Crowd of the Faithful

The double-header with Manchester, Saturday, that concluded the season at Spaulding park, was attended by the smallest crowd of the season. Outside of giving Bobby Keeler a little practice as umpire, the game didn't amount to much, as the players took little interest in their work and there was no incentive to make them exert themselves. The weather was against ball playing, but Manager Gray, with characteristic gameness, had the two games played out, notwithstanding the fact that he lost money at it.

The players on both sides showed a tendency to burlesque both games, and in the second a Manchester player took Weaver's place in right field, unknown to Empire Keeler, and was about to "show" the game when Manager Gray observed. The fans were well pleased with the second game was over.

First Inning
Sweat opened with a drive to Dee, who booted the ball allowing the runner to reach first in safety. Kane drove a liner to Fahy at third. Reed fled out to Stimpson in left. Ostergeren was hit by a pitched ball and Stimpson moved to second. Spikes fled out to Fahy. No runs, one hit, one error.

Sweat came through with a single to center. McCleskey singled to left center, Swayne going to second. Fahy went out. Spikes to Stimpson advancing Swayne and McCleskey. Stimpson smashed a single to left center scoring Swayne and McCleskey and went to second on Stimpson's throw to the plate. Stimpson took third when Dee grounded to Swayne and was thrown out at first. Kelly walked. Kelly started for second and drew Kilhullen's throw to Torphy. The latter returned the ball to the plate in time to catch Stimpson, who attempted to reach home. Two runs, three hits, no errors.

Second Inning
Torphy grounded out. McCleskey to Kelly. Kilhullen singled in center but was forced out at second when Stimpson hit to McCleskey. Eaton hit to Kelly who threw to Dee. Greenhalge singled at second. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Weaver went out on a fly to Stimpson in deep left. Greenhalge singled to left. Zieser drove the ball over the left field fence for a home run, scoring Greenhalge ahead of him. Swayne grounded to Kane and went out at first. McCleskey was hit and went second when Fahy walked. Stimpson singled to right and went to third when Reed allowed the ball to go through his legs. McCleskey and Fahy scored on the error. Dee then drove the ball to deep right field for two bases, scoring Stimpson. Kelly closed the inning by fanning. Five runs, four hits, one error.

Third Inning
Sweat and Kane fled to McCleskey and Dee respectively in the third inning. Reed fanned for the third out. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Weaver drove a liner to right which Reed took care of. Greenhalge fled out to Swayne in short right. Zieser also fled to Swayne in back of second base. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Fourth Inning
Ostergeren drove a fast one to Dee and was retired at first. Spikes struck out. Dee to Kelly. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Kane was under Swayne's long fly to right center. McCleskey walked and stole second. Dee hit to Torphy and McCleskey was caught between second and third, Fahy reaching first on a fielder's choice. Fahy then stole second. Stimpson reached first when Torphy made good his throw of his grounder. Fahy scoring. In an attempt to steal second, Stimpson was out. Kilhullen to Torphy. One run, one hit, one error.

Fifth Inning
Dee was a busy man in the fifth inning. Shortly took Kilhullen's easy fly and then took care of grounders from the bats of Stimpson and Eaton, getting both men at first. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Kane fled to Kane in left center. Kelly out-flied to Swave. Weaver slumped a double to left field. Reed caught a fly off Greenhalge's bat in short center. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Sixth Inning
Sweat broke the ice for Manchester by hitting the ball over the left field fence for a home run. Kane singled to center field and was put out trying to make second on the hit. Reed grounded to Fahy and was thrown out at first. Ostergeren closed the inning with a fly to Kelly. One run, two hits, no errors.

Zieser foul-flied to Kilhullen. Swayne drove a liner into Torphy's hands for the second out. McCleskey grounded to Spikes and was thrown out at first. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Seventh Inning
Spikes singled to left. Torphy fled to McCleskey. Kilhullen fled out to Stimpson. Stimpson singled to right center, sending Spikes to second. Eaton went out at first on a grounder to McCleskey. No runs, two hits, no errors.

Fahy hit a grounder to Spikes and was out on the latter's throw to Ostergeren. Stimpson went to second on a fielder's choice. Stimpson fled out to Fahy. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Eighth Inning
Sweat singled to left field, cracking his bat when it came in contact with the ball. Kane singled, advancing Sweat to second. Sweat piffed third. Reed sent a timely single to left, scoring Sweat and advancing Kane to second. Ostergeren hit to McCleskey, who threw to Dee, getting Reed at second. Kane went to third. Spikes drove the ball over the left field fence, scoring Kane and Ostergeren ahead of him. Torphy out. McCleskey to Kelly. Kilhullen went out on a fly to center-field. Four runs, four hits, no errors.

Reed was under Kelly's fly and Kane took care of Weaver's high one. Greenhalge foul-flied to Spikes, retiring the side. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Score: Lowell 8, Manchester 5.
Ninth Inning
Stimpson opened the ninth with a grounder to McCleskey and was out at first when Stimpson threw to Kelly. Fahy by several feet. Eaton was out. Zieser to Kelly. Sweat fled out to Weaver in deep right field. No runs, no hits, no errors.

SCENE OF CARNAGE
PARIS, Sept. 14.—A foreign officer, who visited the scene of Saturday's fighting, when the allied army was pursuing the fleeing left wing of the Germans at Berzy, describes a terrible scene of carnage. The fields and woods were thickly strewn with dead; several thousand had fallen in that district. Military authorities consider it probable that the German force which evacuated Amiens returned too late to join the main body and are likely to off.

MADE FATAL MISTAKE
LONDON, Sept. 14.—The News of the World, describing the death on the battlefield of Archie Winsor-Clive, younger son of the Earl of Plymouth, says that seeing whom he took to be an officer of a certain British regiment, the young man approached and saluted him. The officer proved to be a German, who drew a revolver and shot Winsor-Clive.

POST SEASON SERIES

WILL OPEN AT NEW LONDON TOMORROW—OPENING GAME AT LAWRENCE FRIDAY

The Lawrence-New England post-series will open tomorrow at New London.

Tonight a banquet will be tendered the members of the Lawrence team at the Lawrence Country club and unless indignation overtakes them they will be on deck in the Connecticut city tomorrow.

Alec Pearson, the old Lawrence standby will pitch the opening game. The second game will be played in New London on Wednesday and then the players will lay off a day preparatory to opening up at Lawrence Friday.

DIAMOND DAZZLES
It's all over. (Business of giving a sign of relief.)

All up for Lawrence. Forget the past and root for the little old N. E. League.

There may be a shake-up in the list of officials of the league ere the opening of next season.

Umpire Keeler will be a fixture in the world of ump. Most of the team beat it for their homes over Sunday. There were no banquets or receptions scheduled.

Here's hoping Jimmy Ring makes good with the big fellows.

Portland is reputed to be the only city in the league that made any money. It's a good bet that Lawrence and Worcester didn't lose much.

BOXING NEWS
Sam Langford of Boston and "Batling Jim" Johnson of Tennessee have been signed up to furnish the feature bout of 12 rounds at the Atlas A. A. of Boston next Tuesday night.

This team of colored heavyweights is the best in its class at the present time outside of Jack Johnson, and are sure to put up a rugged mill. Jim Johnson has already held the championship to a 10-round draw, the bout taking place at Paris a short time ago.

Langford and Johnson put up the best heavyweight contest ever seen in New York since the passage of the Fawcett law. This match which was held within a month was a real decision affair of 10 rounds, and there were many of the spectators who thought that Langford would be put away if the bout were a 12-round one instead of 10, as the Boston "Tar Baby" was pretty well used up at the finish, while his opponent was getting better the faster he was in the early part of the match.

The members are showing unusual interest in this match, as they figure it will be a repetition of the previous bouts between Joe Jeaneite and Sam, which kept the crowd in one continual round of excitement.

Two good preliminaries of six rounds each, and an 8-round semi-final will be staged in addition to the Langford-Johnson match.

Carl Herz, a good colored welterweight from Washington, D. C. will make his initial appearance in a bout in this city when he clashes with Young Clancy of Boston.

Gardner Brooks of Lowell and Barney Snyder of Roxbury will box six rounds for the bantamweight championship of New England. They are the fastest in their class, and should make a clever bout.

Young Jasper of Boston and Johnny Glover of South Boston clash in the 8-round semi-final, and a fast, clever bout should be in order, as each knows the game thoroughly, and are bitter rivals.

The secretary's office is at 160 Washington street, Tel. Oxford 5305.

AVERY STREET OPENED

TO TRAFFIC TODAY—NO FORMAL CEREMONY MARKED NOTABLE EVENT

ROSTON, Sept. 14.—The new Avery street was thrown open to traffic this morning. The historic byway where noted theatrical stars of a bygone day got a new title and a shoeshine and a hasty snatch of lunch far from the maddest throng has entirely disappeared and in its place an up-to-date city thoroughfare with a paved roadway and a spacious sidewalk on the southern side. A last vestige of the lane that once was, the sidewalk on the north side is still so narrow that one may continue to get by the man one meets by gracefully turning sideways and doing the one-step glide.

No Formal Ceremony
At 9 o'clock this morning, without formal ceremony, the fence that blocks the street was torn away, and a tide of pedestrians and vehicles passed through Avery street.

Mayor Curley has recommended to the street commissioners that the name of the street be changed as well as its appearance. Bacon street is the suggestion. The change will doubtless be made.

As yet the new Avery street is beautiful only from a strictly utilitarian viewpoint. Although in the near future property owners intend to build stores along the south side and thereby make the street one of the busiest in the business section, as yet it looks

EXCUSE ME

GEORGE DAVIS MAKES STALLINGS REJOICE BY PITCHING NO HIT GAME

BOSTON, Sept. 12.—Is George Stallings a wizard? Well, he seems to have uncovered another pitching find. Just when the wise ones were saying that his three leading pitchers were overworked and that his team would crack he trotted out a youngster. And what did the youngster do? Nothing much—only pitched a no hit game against the Philadelphia team, one of the hardest hitting aggregations of home run makers in the game. And to do this stunt Mr. Davis did not seem to exert himself, and his teammates did not have to perform any unusual fielding feats. There was not the semblance of a hit. And to add to his exploit Davis slammed out three hits and scored one run. Davis has been in the big league before, having been rejected by both Harry Wolverton and Frank Chance when he tried to hold a job with the New York Americans. Chance did not like Davis because he quit the training camp to get married. Davis' father is former State Senator Davis of Buffalo, a man of considerable wealth. The young man began playing ball with Williams college, where he attracted the attention of Doc Barrett, the physical director, who is also the trainer for the Yankees. Davis specializes in the spitball, and he also has a fast ball that burns the air. His future appearances will be watched with interest. No other pitcher ever made such a record on his debut in the National league.

FRANCIS PATENAUDE HERE

TELLS OF CONDITIONS IN THE NORTHWEST—IDEAL CLIMATE IN THAT PART OF DOMINION

Francis Patenaude, formerly of this city and now of Rossland, British Columbia, is visiting relatives in Lowell. The young man spent two months in the vicinity of Sherbrooke, Que., and he expects to remain in this city four weeks.
Mr. Patenaude left Lowell with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Xiste Patenaude, some 12 years ago, and settled at Coaticook, Que., where Harry Thaw was captured after his sensational escape from the asylum. The family remained on a farm in Coaticook until some eight years ago when they removed to Rossland, B. C.
Rossland is a small mining city with a population of about 4500 and is very prosperous. The Consolidated Mining Co., composed of Englishmen, employs about 800 men and pays high wages. The town is a great mining place, the chief products of the mines being gold, copper and iron, and, according to reports, there are ten jobs for every man. The trip from Rossland to Lowell is a long one, requiring five days and five nights by rail.

SELECTMEN DECIDE TO EXPEND $14,000 IMPROVING THE ROADS AT BEACH—ACTION ENDS QUARREL

SALISBURY BEACH, Sept. 12.—The decision of the selectmen of the town of Salisbury to expend $14,000 improving the roads at the beach ends the quarrel which has existed for over a year between the selectmen and the owners of property at the beach. Last year, after the town meeting, it was expected that work would start at once improving the roads, but it was delayed until the present season has ended without any action being taken. During the past season the town selectmen have been very much smaller than those who went to Haverhill.
Doubt is now expressed by some of the prominent business men regarding the $14,000 street work, for they claim that the town will find it very difficult to sell the bonds as the war in Europe has paralyzed the financial markets.

HIGH SCHOOL PROBLEM

The Lowell school board, the municipal council and all thinking people of the city must be well aware that the taking over of the Varnum property is but the first expensive makeshift of a long series unless Lowell faces its high school problem squarely and decides that a new or completely remodeled high school building or set of buildings is the most economical and the only satisfactory solution. Adequate school facilities head the list of municipal necessities, and Lowell will not have adequate school facilities until all petty patch work policies are swept aside and until competent men set out to give us a high school building in keeping with the size, importance and school requirements of the city.

Assuming that the taking over of the Varnum property—which by the way promises to develop into quite an expensive proposition—meets the most pressing difficulties this year, how long will it be satisfactory? At best it only provides in a makeshift fashion for present necessities without any provision for the future. Next year the situation will be still more acute, and it will continue to become worse as the population of the city grows and as our people see the advantages of high school education for their children. Are we then to continue crowding all our available school space to capacity, and buying up unsuitable and unsatisfactory buildings here, there and everywhere until the high school is scattered so as to make successful work impossible? To do this very long would entail an expense which would more than build a new and adequate high school, and it would entail a degree of inconvenience and inefficiency that would leave a costly heritage to future citizens.

The school authorities of former days did not figure on the future growth of the city and we are reaping the reward of their shortsightedness. Schools are absolutely essential and though there may be a shortage of money for the most pressing municipal necessities, money must be found for the maintenance of adequate school buildings while a city retains its name. There seems to be no serious shortage of money for the more purely political policies of our municipal heads, but they seem ready to adopt any specious subterfuge that postpones monetary outlay for school requirements as long as possible.

There is no minimizing the fact that this school question is a big one, but ignoring it does not help to make it less important.

The taxpayers have always been anxious to meet every demand for better educational facilities, but certain city officials give precedence to other and less essential undertakings with the result that our high school is being conducted under extreme disadvantages.

WAR THE DESTROYER

It has been stated over and over again that the present war is a losing game for every nation involved in it, and nothing is more true. Every soldier killed represents a monetary loss of almost $20,000 and this phase of the struggle alone will leave a terrible financial burden on Germany, France, England, Austria, and every power that is directly engaged in the conflict. Yet this phase of the destruction of war is slight compared with the other losses—the losses in brains, in enterprise, in national vitality, in science, in art, in all that goes to build up national prosperity. Then, too, there is the loss in commercial prestige, in manufacture, in every industrial line of endeavor, in invention, in those things that had made Germany the most successful nation in times of peace. It is a loss that cannot be summed up in words, or understood, but it is a loss that will impose a heavy burden on every man, woman and child in the war nations for generations to come.

At the present time in the armies of France, Germany and England are men of great genius, intellectual attainments, inventive originality. From the ranks of the writers, educators, scientists, manufacturers, business and professional men have swarmed individuals who have made the world richer or who would have made the world richer had peace blessed their careers. No longer do they think on the human need which their enterprise or ability was to supply. With rifle and bayonet and bullet they are like beasts of prey, every nerve alert with one awful desire, to kill an enemy who may be dowered with like ability. War was the terrible agency which worked the transformation and civilization falls so much backward. One writer calls the armies "hosts of lost identity" and surely no one can measure the magnitude of that which has been lost with the identity of the frenzied fighters.

The great Pope Leo and his illustrious successor often declared that war is the fruit of treachery; the socialist says that it is due to ignorance of its economic aspect. To whatever it may be due, the world sees it now in no false light of romance, for it is known as the most dreadful relic of barbarism that has come down from bygone times. The voice of the American people is raised in prayers for peace—not only for this nation but for all the sorely tried and suffering nations of the earth now suffering the dreadful horrors of war.

WAR ATROCITIES

It is yet too early to come to a final decision as to which side has been the more guilty of war atrocities during the present struggle and it is not even safe to accept the stories of excited partisans, but there are certain aspects of the fight for which even the exigencies of war at its worst do not offer justification. The dropping of bombs on cities which are non-belligerent, the carrying of the enemies standard, the ruthless slaughter of non-combatants, abuses of women and children and many other things which have been charged by the respective sides against their opponents shock the civilized world, but there are doubtless episodes in the present war more terrible than imagination can conceive. To appeal to the Hague seems like a joke when the stenderness of the Hague itself has been demonstrated and all the warring powers seem most desirous of cultivating the sympathy of this country. The letters from the Kaiser and English officials to President Wilson and the visiting Belgian delegation prove how anxious all concerned are for the good opinion of America, but they should and undoubtedly will be listened to with respectful and silent attention. Official comment on their contents should be reserved until the war is over and until an unbiased commission has weighed the claims of the contending parties.

STREET MENDING

Apocryph of our honeycombed streets, travellers who have toured over the roads along the north shore can bear witness to the fact that a cavity or depression of any kind is a rarity, and any interested Lowell citizen who may be in that section can see for himself how the thoroughfares are kept in condition. When any break or hollow in the surface is discovered a repair gang is rushed to the scene, a prepared composition is poured into the hollow, crushed stone is put on top and over the whole is poured more of the binder. In a few days the repaired part is as good as new.

The Lowell way has been either to neglect the damage until it becomes a miniature valley with several other in the vicinity or to throw in crushed stone which auto traffic scatters as quickly as it is laid. Loose filling is worthless under present traffic conditions and the only scientific way to remedy street defects is to patch them with some plastic composition that will form part of the original surface on drying. Were this done consistently in Lowell as in other cities we should not have to apologize for street conditions that have become a menace and a civic disgrace.

CAMPAIGN DRIVE

Some of the campaign issues voiced by republican politicians throughout the country are the varied drive, and the strain that gave them birth in this time of triumph for the administration is painfully evident. The war has thrown the achievements of the democratic party into grateful relief, and there is not a national issue that reflects adversely on those in power. The tariff, the currency, the Mexican situation, the foreign service, all have been vindicated wholly or in part by recent developments, and there is a general feeling that to attempt to lower the prestige of the president and his advisers is futile. It is a wise republican politician who confines himself to city local issues and refrains from attacking the democratic administration at present. In that quarter every knock is a boost.

SEEN AND HEARD

Some time ago, Congressman Owen of Oklahoma said, Little Jimmy's fond father brought him a chameleon, and for several days thereafter great was the happiness around the suburban home. One evening, on returning from work, dad noticed the chameleon wasn't included in the family circle. "Where's your chameleon, Jimmy?" he inquired.

"He is some father," was the response. "Why, what do you mean?" asked father. "Did he escape?"

"No, father," exclaimed Jimmy. "I put him on a piece of blue cloth and he turned blue. Then I put him on a piece of red cloth and he turned red. Then I put him on a piece of green cloth and he turned green. Then I put him on a piece of plaid cloth and he busted tryin' to make good."

SALISBURY BEACH IMPROVED

A year ago Wednesday Salisbury beach was swept by the disastrous fire which wiped the heart out of the resort and left a pile of ruins over what had been a popular amusement center. Since the fire the beach has undergone a remarkable change. New buildings have been erected in place of those destroyed by the blaze, and the first anniversary of the fire finds the beach rebuilt with all its old and many new attractions, presenting a much improved appearance and retaining all the popularity of the old resort.

The property owners have made wonderful progress in rebuilding the beach, but still they are not yet satisfied and have planned numerous improvements which will be evident at the resort in another season. Everything is being done to make the beach bigger, better and busier than ever before and though the business men have encountered many difficulties they have not hesitated in devoting all their available time and money in reestablishing their stores and lending their support to all plans for the improvement of the beach.

HINDUS IN SCRAP

The arrival of the Hindu contingent in France, says the Toronto Globe, brings a welcome addition to the ill-fated war. The Hindus are fighting the Germans. Many of them Lord Kitchener will bring over on one of this side of the Atlantic, perhaps no one on the other side, knows. What is well known to all who are familiar with history and contemporary conditions in Hindustan is that the Sikh soldiers will always and everywhere give a good account of themselves. They belong to the finest of the many Indian races. Their country—the Punjab—was annexed to Britain.

HAVE YOU NEURASTHENIA?

Neurasthenia is a condition of exhaustion of the nervous system. The causes are varied. Continuous work, mental or physical, without proper vacation periods, without proper attention to diet and exercise, also worry over the struggles for success, are the most common causes. Excesses of almost any kind may produce it. Some diseases, like the grip, will cause neurasthenia. So also will a severe shock, intense anxiety or grief. The symptoms are over-sensitiveness, irritability, a disposition to worry over trifles, headache, possibly nausea.

The treatment is one of nutrition of the nerve cells, requiring a non-alcoholic tonic. As the nerves get their nourishment from the blood, the treatment must be directed toward building up the blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills act directly on the blood and with proper regulation of the diet have proved of the greatest benefit in many cases of neurasthenia. A tendency to anemia, or bloodlessness, shown by most neurasthenic patients, is also corrected by these pills. Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Two useful books, "Diseases of the Nervous System" and "What to Eat and How to Eat" will be sent free by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., if you mention this paper.

ish India in 1848 after two force wars, but no much progress was made during the next ten years. In making British administration acceptable to them that in the Indian Mutiny of 1857 they took the side of Great Britain against the mutinous Sepoys of Oudh and other provinces, and did no one can say how much to enable Great Britain to retain control of the whole country. Lord Kitchener knows these troops well, and they know him, for he served as commander-in-chief in India from 1902 to 1909. Their military exploits in the allied army will be watched with deep interest by both British and French comrades in arms, and not less so by the Algerians from French Africa.

WHAT UNSEXES HER

It doesn't unsex her to tell in a fact. Mind the beam from the dawn till the night. To deal with a schoolful of children doesn't unsex her in any one's sight. Work in a store—where her back aches inhumanly—Doesn't unsex her at all, you will agree. But think how exceedingly rough and unwomanly would be if she happened to vote.

To sweat in a laundry that's torrid and stifling. To carry the beam from the dawn till the night. To deal with a schoolful of children doesn't unsex her in any one's sight. Work in a store—where her back aches inhumanly—Doesn't unsex her at all, you will agree. But think how exceedingly rough and unwomanly would be if she happened to vote.

She's feminine still when she juggles the crockery. Bringing you blithely the order you write. Tell in a sweatshop where life is a mockery. Just for the pittance on which she lives. That doesn't seem to unsex her a particle. "Labor is noble"—so somebody wrote. But ballots are known as a dangerous article. Woman, unsexed if you give her the vote.

SPENT THE SUMMER

SAVING MONEY—WELLESLEY GIRLS HUSTLE TO GET FUNDS FOR NEW BUILDING

BOSTON, Sept. 14.—"How much did you make? How did you make it?" Those are the questions that are filling the minds of Wellesley girls just now and that will resound through the old campus when college opens next Monday, for every Wellesley girl has been working her very hardest this summer to earn as much money as she could for the Wellesley building fund, and every girl is eager to learn of all her particular friends did their part.

It was announced last spring, soon after the burning of College hall, Wellesley's main building, that $750,000 would be given for the rebuilding from the Rockefeller foundation if the college could raise the rest of the necessary $2,000,000. Before Jan. 1, 1915, as soon as the news was made public all the college fudge parties became serious councils of war, and every girl debated earnestly within herself how she was to help make the needed total. The 1915 girls agreed each to bring back $55 at the end of the summer.

Girls Busy All Summer

During the long vacation months the girls have been busy carrying out their plans, and now they are eager to bring in the harvest. Already some of the news of the summer campaign has floated in to Miss Margaret Griffin, last year's Junior president, and she can tell of curious ways in which college girls have put themselves to work.

One girl, a very dainty and pretty young lady, prominent in college society, undertook the family housework.

for the summer. She requested her mother to dismiss the regular housemaid and to pay her the maid's salary, with an increase of a dollar a week. She is bringing back a snug sum of money.

Another organized a vaudeville show near Conway, N. H., where she was starring and made $35. A 1916 girl gave a large dance in the same neighborhood with good success. "A good deal of money has been earned by girls who organized regular college stunts at the summer places where they were staying," says Miss Griffin. "People love to do 'college' things, you know. A couple of girls made $25 by having a 'bacon' hat. That simply means they invited people to campfire suppers in the woods and allowed them to fry bacon on sticks. "People bought snapshots of typical Wellesley scenes, too, and were very good about attending the moving picture shows of the college events that we had taken last spring."

Some Sold Vacuum Cleaners

"A good many 1915 girls took advantage of an opportunity that we obtained to sell vacuum cleaners at a commission of $17, and the 1916 girls sold a lot of vacuums. Those girls of Wellesley College Restoration Fund" printed across them. "And then—oh, there have been innumerable adds and ends of ways of raising money. Girls have sewed, and crocheted cards for underwear, and auctioned off various belongings. Everyone has taken every opportunity possible to make a little, although it has been our rule not to force gifts or subscriptions from people."

At the beginning of the summer the class of 1915 had turned in $14,000 and much more will come in next week. Each girl has pledged herself to bring $100 in the class fund next June. Six hundred and twenty-five dollars remains to be raised, and this the girls are determined to make before the new year.

SUNDAY CHURCH EVENTS

REV. C. R. SKINNER SAID FAREWELL TO FLOCK—INTERESTING SERVICE AT FIRST BAPTIST

Rev. Clarence R. Skinner, who has given up the pastorate of the Grace Universalist church of this city to accept a professorship at Tufts college, held his parishioners farewell at the morning service yesterday. The auditorium was well filled and the words of the pastor touched deeply the members of the church. The sermon was preached by Rev. Howard B. Dard of San Diego, Cal.

Rev. Mr. Skinner had been stationed in Lowell for a number of years and it was with sorrow that his parishioners heard of his intentions to enter another field.

Union Meeting of Swedish Churches

Union meetings of members of the Swedish Congregational and Methodist churches of this city will be held throughout the month of October, and arrangements are already under way for the union sessions, each beginning on Thursday night, October 1. The rights on which the meetings will be held are Tuesday and Sunday, and they will be held alternately in the two churches. The pastors, Rev. John Elmen and Rev. Edwin T. Stromberg, will conduct the services.

Centralville M. E.

The first fall meeting of the Boy Scouts will be held at 7:30 o'clock this evening. At 8:45 o'clock Thursday the regular choir rehearsal will be held and on Friday evening, at 7:30 o'clock, there will be a special meeting of the Sunday school board.

Eliot Church

At the Eliot church the pastor announced that rally Sunday would be held Sept. 21 to be followed by a week of prayer.

The Young People's society also resumed its meetings in the evening at 8:30 o'clock. Miss Mary Richardson led the meeting, the topic being "What is a Good Education?"

The pastor conducted a service at the Old Ladies' Home in the afternoon.

First Baptist Church

Rev. J. E. Dinmore, assistant pastor, preached the sermon at the First Baptist church yesterday. The announcements for the week included the reunion of the teachers and officers of the Sunday school on Thursday evening when the address will be given by Mr. H. V. Meyer of Boston.

An interesting feature of the Sunday school session at the First Baptist church yesterday was the showing by Mr. W. T. Shepard of a genuine clay lamp that he obtained in Jerusalem two years ago, one similar to those used in Palestine in the time of Christ, and referred to in the lesson for the day on "The Ten Virgins." Mr. Shepard told an interesting story about the lamp and also showed two coins, one a denarius or penny, and the other a mile, such as were referred to in another lesson of two weeks ago.

St. Anne's Church

At St. Anne's church yesterday Rev. Appleton Granits preached a sermon appropriate to the season. He announced that the Sunday school would open next Sunday morning and that the full choir will sing on the church lawn for twenty minutes before the evening service.

Rev. Mr. Granits conducted a service at No. 111111 last night with a large attendance. He spoke upon some problems of the war. The new building will be completed in six weeks or the middle of October and will be formally opened soon after.

ITALIANS CELEBRATING

BOSTON, Sept. 14.—A three days' celebration of the Feast of St. Anthony is being held by the Italians of Revere. The celebration began Saturday evening with a band concert. The Italian district, in the vicinity of St. Anthony's church, Revere street, has been beautifully decorated and last evening was illuminated.

Yesterday the celebration continued with a high mass at 10 o'clock in charge of the Rev. Fr. Ernest Royle, pastor of the church. In the afternoon there was a parade and in line were the members of the Holy Name society of St. Anthony's church, the Daughters of Maria and the Mt. Carmine society. In the evening there was a band concert. Tonight the exercises will close with a band concert and fireworks.

WAS BADLY INJURED

BOSTON, Sept. 14.—While crossing Washington street, near Palmer street, Roxbury, last night, Mrs. Mary Connors, 45, of 50 Magazine street, Roxbury was run over by a horse attached to a buggy, and sustained lacerations about the face. Two men, who were in the buggy at the time, left the woman helpless in the street and rode away. She was taken to the City hospital.

RED CROSS SHIP SAILS

WITH 30 SURGEONS AND 125 NURSES FOR THE EUROPEAN WAR FIELD

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—The steamer Red Cross, bound on errand of mercy to the European war zone, left her anchorage in Gravesend bay at 5:08 p. m. yesterday, and shortly before 6 o'clock was on her way to sea-past the Sandy Hook bar.

It was after many delays that the big white ship which is conveying doctors, nurses and supplies to the European war zone, finally put to sea on her trans-Atlantic trip. Difficulties over the makeup of her crew, due to the fear of international complications, had at last been smoothed out.

As the Red Cross steamed down the bay with her red crosses gleaming in the sunset and her flags fluttering, the whistles of all sorts of water craft joined in a farewell chorus. Along the rail were massed the blue coated nurses forming a solid blue band above the white of the ship's side and the belt of red just below her deck.

The Red Cross carries 125 trained nurses and 30 surgeons and an equipment of thousands of pounds of stores, tent cotton, bandages, drugs and surgical instruments. Her first stop will be at Falmouth, Eng.

SERIOUS LOSS TO Y.W.C.A.

A load of furniture, the property of the Lowell Y. W. C. A., was destroyed by fire late Saturday afternoon while it was being removed from the association's summer camp in Billerica to the quarters in John street, this city. The loss will amount to about $300.

The furniture was being removed by J. H. McDonald of this city, who owns a large motor moving van. The furniture had been packed on the truck and the chauffeur was about to start his machine when the engine back fired and the fire broke out and the van caught fire. The men in charge of the van at-

CRIMINAL COURT SESSION

Many Cases Promptly Disposed of Before Judge Keating--Man Fined $50 for Carrying Pistol

The September sitting of the criminal session of superior court opened in the old court room in the court house at 10 o'clock this forenoon with Judge Keating presiding. Rev. N. W. Matthews offered prayer at the opening of court.

The trial list contains a large number of Lowell cases, some of which will undoubtedly be tried in Cambridge. Assistant District Attorney O'Donnell conducted the cases for the prosecution, in the absence of District Attorney Concoran, who was detained in Cambridge.

Several of the jurors pleaded with Judge Keating to be excused from serving during the session giving business engagements as excuses, but the court opined that business men were needed and was unable to excuse only a few.

Sent to Reformatory

The first case called by Clerk Ralph Smith was that of Ernest Turner of Lowell, charged with the larceny of a gold watch and a small sum of money from a man named Smith, who resides in Oldtown, Me. The theft occurred in the Merrimack house.

Turner entered a plea of guilty and after Supt. Welsh had told the court that the defendant entered Smith's room in the Merrimack hotel and committed the theft, he was sentenced to the Massachusetts reformatory.

Peter Richards and Edward Carney pleaded guilty to breaking and entering and larceny from the U. S. Bunting club and John McMahon were placed on file after the McMahon's had pleaded nolo contendere. D. J. Donahue for the government and J. Joseph O'Connor for the defendants.

Armand Gouard, breaking and entering from local variety stores, was sent to the Massachusetts reformatory after pleading guilty to two counts. The assault and battery cases of Edward and John McMahon were placed on file after the McMahon's had pleaded nolo contendere. D. J. Donahue for the government and J. Joseph O'Connor for the defendants.

Larceny of $35
Alfred Pilekewicz pleaded guilty to a complaint charging him with the larceny of $35 from a fellow comatriot and he was placed on probation by the court. It will be remembered that Alfred was arrested as a result of having in his possession three $10 bills which were marked with crosses.

The complainant claimed that he marked the money and placed it in a trunk, but his companion stoutly denied the charge in the lower court. J. Joseph O'Connor for the government and D. J. Donahue for the defendant. Albert C. Gosselin was surrendered by Probation Officer Ramsay while in the latter's custody for breaking and entering in the year 1913. Mr. Ramsay stated that the young man, who is but 18 years of age, had been held at the Lowell jail for several weeks and had undoubtedly received enough punishment. Defendant was again placed on probation.

Manuel J. Avila pleaded guilty to violation of the milk law and was asked to pay a fine of $50. Avila was represented by J. Joseph O'Connor.

Alfred Gibeault, John Kassock, Patrick F. Creggan and John Sidney, drunkenness, were placed on probation on condition that they abstain from intoxicating liquors.

The record of Philip Tibbotts, charged with drunkenness, was against him and he was committed to the Massachusetts reformatory. Adair Tessler failed to answer to a complaint charging him with non-support of wife and his default was recorded.

William J. Ryan, non-support, promised to pay $5 a week toward the support of his family and he was placed on probation on this condition.

At 11 o'clock a recess of one hour was ordered.

THE ENTIRE TERRITORY OF FRENCH LORRAINE

Has Been Liberated--Crown Prince and His Army Forced Across the Frontier--German Rout Deepening Into Complete Disaster--Allies Lead Opponents Straight Into Trap--Germans Thought Englishmen Were Running Away From Them

LONDON, Sept. 14.--The first stage of the battle of the Marne which from the numbers of the fighting men engaged, the extent of the line of battle and the terrific slaughter, is perhaps correctly described as "the battle of the ages" would appear to have been won by the French and British armies but the main German army is still intact and the supreme clash has yet to come.

The present week may see even more desperate encounters than any which have yet taken place. Metz, the capital of Lorraine and the chain of forts thence to Diedenhofen on the Moselle, 17 miles north of Metz, form a strong pivot for the German left, while the river courses and the dense forests on the frontier together with the strategic roads give the German army of invasion now in retreat, a splendid opportunity for defensive action should the French pursuit extend this far.

Military observers foresee all kinds of perplexing possibilities in the event of the Germans regaining the positions they held before they started the rush of their hosts on Paris particularly if they should succeed in taking back any large proportion of their forces.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS OPEN

Overflow of 600 at High School--Supt. Molloy Hears From Six Absent Teachers by Wireless

The opening of the public schools for the fall session took place this morning with increased attendance and all teachers except seven at their posts. Six of these teachers are understood to be with the Miss Owen and the Miss Killpatrick parties, both of which are expected in this city Thursday morning, as a wireless message to the effect that the parties would arrive in New York Wednesday has been received by Supt. Molloy.

The other teacher, Ernest M. Hunt, head of the commercial department, has resigned to accept a position at the Dorchester high school.

No exact figures as to attendance at any school could be secured this forenoon, but new classes were being formed and arrangements made for getting to work as soon as possible.

Supt. Molloy was on duty early and made a tour of the various schools of the city and assisted as much as possible in the arrangements for starting business.

Overflow at High School
There is an overflow of about 600 pupils in the Lowell high school and in order to accommodate all of the newcomers, the principal of the school, Mr. Cyrus W. Irish, has made provisions for afternoon sessions. This will mean more work for a number of teachers, but it will relieve the condition which the Vermont property in Kirk street, which was recently purchased by the city, is ready for occupancy.

The registration up till noon today brought the number of pupils to a little less than 1600. The entire freshmen class will recite in the afternoon with the exception of the few pupils who will take up French, and who will have to report in the forenoon to recite with others. The drills will be held at 12.25 o'clock at the opening of the afternoon session.

Principal Irish has arranged a schedule for vacation recitations and he hopes the pupils in the upper classes who recite in the first year studies will note this schedule carefully and report only at the time indicated in the said schedule.

The opening of the afternoon session will take place at 12.25 o'clock and the recitations will be as follows: First recitation, 12.30; second, 1.10; third, 1.50. At 2.50 o'clock a ten-minute recess will be taken. The fourth study will be at 2.45 o'clock, the fifth at 3.25, and the close of the school will be at 4.05 o'clock.

There will be one change in the teaching staff this year and that will be to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Ernest H. Hunt, head of the commercial department, who has accepted a position as teacher of commercial subjects at the Dorchester high school. Mr. Hunt's place is now being filled by a substitute teacher.

The position of Miss Mary H. Killpatrick teacher at the high school, is also being filled by a substitute teacher inasmuch as Miss Killpatrick has not as yet returned from Europe, where she spent the summer months.

There are six other school teachers who went to Europe and who failed to report this morning at the opening of the public schools and they are: Miss Ellen A. Stillings, Elliot school; Miss Carrie Bailey, Pine Street school; Miss Sadie M. Dann, Laura Lee school; Miss Myrtle Killpatrick, Washington school, and Miss Eva Cayen, substitute.

It is expected these teachers will be in this city Thursday of this week, as Supt. Hugh J. Molloy of the school department yesterday received the following wireless message from the parties:

"Capo Race, Newfoundland, Sept. 13, via Radio.

"Six teachers due New York, 16th.

"(Signed) Killpatrick-Owen."

CATHOLIC SCHOOLS OPEN

Large Turnout of Pupils to the Parochial Schools—Notre Dame Academy Opens Wednesday

With the ending of the summer season the various activities of the Catholic churches of the city have been resumed. Important meetings of the many societies and sodalities are being held; committees are being formed to carry on parish activities. Important announcements have been made by the spiritual directors of church bodies and the parochial schools have been opened. The parochial school of St. Patrick's opened last Monday with an overflowing attendance and the schools of the Immaculate Conception, St. Michael's and St. Peter's opened this morning. All are fully attended.

Parochial School Opening

It was announced at all the masses of the Immaculate Conception church yesterday that the school would begin with a special mass this morning at 8 and the parents of the parish were urged to send all the children. Accordingly, there was a large crowd of juveniles at the mass this morning which was celebrated by Rev. Dennis A. Sullivan, O. M. I. Many of the parents also were in attendance. Immediately after the religious ceremony the children were ranged in various groups and were marched to the school rooms to which they were assigned according to grade. The schools looked unusually sanitary and refreshing, having been thoroughly renovated during the vacation period. The old floors had been replaced by beautiful floors of maple, the walls had been retinted and all the paint had been freshened. With a full attendance and under improved conditions this splendid educational establishment has opened what promises to be one of the most notable seasons in its history.

St. Michael's parochial school opened this morning after the 8.30 mass, the children going to their various school rooms at the close of the services. As in the case of the Immaculate Conception, St. Michael's schools are rounding out a quarter of a century of existence, but they are thoroughly renovated during the vacation period and prepared for each successive season.

St. Peter's comparatively new school building also presented a busy appearance this morning when the many school rooms were filled with the throngs that responded to the announcement of school opening. There was no formal church service but special prayers were said by the teachers and the routine school work was commenced under most favorable auspices.

St. Patrick's

St. Patrick's parish school opened last week. A large class of the children of St. Patrick's parish is being prepared at present for confirmation which will be given Sept. 25 by Bishop Anderson. The sacrament will be received in the church at 2 p. m. Announcements regarding preparation for the event were made at all the masses yesterday. It was also announced that a commemorative mass will be celebrated for the repose of the soul of John F. Saunders next Thursday morning at 8 a. m.

A largely attended meeting of the Holy Name society was held last evening to make plans for the coming season. Remarks were made by the president, the spiritual director and many future activities were outlined. Notre Dame academy will open Wednesday of this week. Preceding the school organization proper the usual religious services will be held in the chapel of the academy.

St. Peter's One of the largest and most enthusiastic meetings in the history of the Holy Name society of St. Peter's parish was held in the new school hall, Gorham street, last evening. There was a great deal of enthusiasm which reached a climax when the members rose in a body and unanimously requested the pastor, Rev. D. J. Keleher, Ph. D., to assume the dual duties of spiritual director and treasurer. The pastor acceded to their flattering request in a gracious speech in which he outlined the many duties of the members and urged them to follow their early resolutions without faltering. At the conclusion of his remarks he was enthusiastically applauded. President Ward, speaking for the members of the society, pledged the loyalty of the body towards their new director who has always manifested a very special interest in the society and in all relating to it. During the routine business of the meeting final arrangements were made for the Harvest dance which will be held Friday, Sept. 18, at Lincoln hall. Action on the usual quarterly communion was deferred until the next formal meeting, Sunday evening, Oct. 4. The officers and consultants are displaying great activity and the society bids fair to eclipse any previous records during the coming season.

Rev. D. J. Keleher, the pastor of St. Peter's is on his retreat this week at Brighton seminary.

LET WIFE ELOPE WITH HIS BROTHER, IT'S SAID—THREE IN JAIL UNDER WHITE SLAVE LAW

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 14.—Stranger even than the first aspect of the case is the latest development in the elopement of Claire L. Chennault with the 17-year-old bride of his younger brother William. Claire formerly was principal of the DeWitt high school.

William had been married only two weeks, and in taking the bride to Chicago and then to Berlin, Wis., where both were found working as farmhands, Claire abandoned a wife and baby.

The elopers were arrested in Berlin, charged with violation of the Mann white slave act. Now William has been arrested on a like charge. All three are in jail here. United States Attorney G. W. Jack caused William's arrest on a charge that the elopement was with the connivance of William himself.

William, it is said, married Miss May Griffin to save his brother from summary punishment threatened to the school principal by her brothers. She had been a pupil under Claire Chennault. She is a handsome girl, and her family stands high socially.

On leaving his place as principal of the high school, Claire went to Oklahoma as an instructor in the State university. He married there. The Griffin family demanded his return here. Then, it is said, his brother William sought to mond matters by offering, since Claire was already married, to wed Miss Griffin himself. He did so, but it is alleged he soon stepped out of the way and winked at the elopement of his wife and his brother.

PRESIDENT'S SANCTION

TO WAR REVENUE BILL AWAITED IN WASHINGTON—LEVY ON FREIGHT TRANSPORTATION

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—Chairman Underwood and other house administration leaders who will guide the war revenue bill through that body today awaited President Wilson's return from New Hampshire. They hope to have the president's sanction to the bill, particularly the proposed three per cent. tax on freight transportation charges.

Mr. Underwood has arranged to confer with the president on his return tomorrow and to urge him to openly express his approval of the plan to put a levy on freight transportation. The president will be informed that opponents of the proposal are to demand a parity caucus. In the place of the freight tax its opponents would levy a larger tax on beer, a tax on whiskeys and distilled liquors which was not contemplated in the committee bill and, perhaps, stamp and inheritance taxes.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

NEW SHOW AT THE OPERA HOUSE

Tonny marks the opening of the second week of pictures and vaudeville at the Opera House and the new array of talent is even better than that of last week. Toping the vaudeville bill is the Marimba band. These gifted artists are six in number and their classic rendition of difficult numbers on the Marimbaphone have won for them a large following on the various big time circuits. The Parson Sisters with their novel songs and songs will form another popular assembly. Right Brothers and Sawelle will amuse in a novelty talking and dancing act, while the Du Quenne Comedy Four will furnish fun of the same type that made the Francis and Goodwin such strong favorites last week.

As a feature photo offering, Daniel Frohman will present Miss Hazel Dawn in the famous international romance, "One Of Our Girls," by the noted dramatist, Bronson Howard. Miss Hazel Dawn is well known to Lowell theatre-goers having scored a big hit in the city with the "Pink Lady," and she will be supported in the masterful piece of photography with the all star cast of the Famous Players studio.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

Moss and Frye, those dynamic comedians, who glory in their own, original version of funmaking, will be featured at the B. F. Keith theatre today, tomorrow and Wednesday, and they should succeed not only in rallying to their support all of the friends they have made in past seasons but in winning many others who are sure to like what they will offer. Moss and Frye are distinctive, if ever a pair were. Naturally enough, their personations are of colored persons, Moss being the likable lugubrious person who never quite shakes off his sorrows. His sorrows, let it be said, are all of the imaginary kind, as is shown him at the conclusion of the act by the dapper little Frye. The singing of the twin is rich. Altogether, the pair should make one of the best funmaking combinations seen here in a long time. The Berlin Trio, three girls, will offer sweet music. The trio offer only the very best, and their trios are sure to be liked. They play the piano, violin and cello, and each one of them has a solo number with obligato. It is a sweet, neat, trim little act, which will make special appeal to those who are musically inclined. Johnson & Crane, a man and a woman, are singers and dancers of note. They also serve some of the very latest of funny stuff. Miss Crane is the possessor of a most varied wardrobe, and she is rated a genuinely beautiful woman. The Welling, Levering company of comedy cyclists is said to be the equal of the famous O'Hearn troupe. Not a thing they do but that savors very strongly of real funmaking. Their knockabout stunts are not only dangerous, but they are of a highly spectacular sort. In addition to these four excellent acts there will be offered four feature films, headed by the noteworthy Heart-Selig News Pictorial. Now war pictures taken at the seat of the great European conflagration will be shown.

For the second half of the week the feature will be furnished by the picture, "The Call of the North," with Robert Edeson and a splendid company playing this Edeson, who has always been a prime favorite here, will be in his best known part, that of "Red Trent," the young American engineer who incurs the enmity of the factor of the Hudson Bay colony and who is sent on La Long Traverse. The scenes of this splendid picture are laid in Canada, about the Hudson bay region. It is said to be a thriller, put forward in the best manner of the Lasky company. The vaudeville feature will be supplied by the Orpheus Comedy Four, a first-rate comedy singing organization, who will play a boy and girl, play a violin and a piano admirably, and Clara Hill is a singing comeliness of repute. Lynch and Williams, a pair of boy comedians, offer a startlingly original act, replete with electrical effects. Performances begin at 2, 7 and 9 p. m., and continue for two hours. Phone 28.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

The first real acid test of the Merrimack Square Theatre stock company's versatility will come this afternoon when in fact the entire week when they will appear in Margaret Beland's famous comic play, "The Awakening of Helena Richter," at this popular theatre. So much has been said and written concerning this particular bill that patrons are looking forward, anticipating something out of the ordinary. And well they might, for even those who have been privileged to witness a rehearsal, declare it will be by far the best theatrical performance of the season, the best offering in which the company have yet appeared.

Performances will be given daily at 2 and 8 and seats are now on sale at the box office. Tickets may be reserved by phone 2053 and these will be held until 1.45 p. m. and 7.45 p. m. Subscriptions list open.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC

Announcement is made that the Academy of Music will close for three days during the preparation of an entirely new and distinctly different policy.

The house will reopen on Thursday afternoon with the new policy. The exact nature of the change contemplated has not yet been made to the public but will be announced tomorrow or Wednesday.

THEATRE VOYONS

"On Lonesome Mountain," a two part story of life in the Kentucky hills, will be the feature picture at the "Voyons" today. This story is full of life from start to finish with many unusual scenes.

A new feature for today will be the "Pathe Weekly." This picture will be changed twice a week. All the news while it is news. "The Storm at Sea," an interesting

HIGH SCHOOL PROBLEM

The Lowell school board, the municipal council and all thinking people of the city must be well aware that the taking over of the Varnum property is but the first expensive makeshift of a long series unless Lowell faces its high school problem squarely and decides that a new or completely remodeled high school building or set of buildings is the most economical and the only satisfactory solution. Adequate school facilities head the list of municipal necessities, and Lowell will not have adequate school facilities until all petty patch work policies are swept aside and until competent men set out to give us a high school building in keeping with the size, importance and school requirements of the city.

Assuming that the taking over of the Varnum property—which by the way promises to develop into quite an expensive proposition—meets the most pressing difficulties this year, how long will it be satisfactory? At best it only provides in a makeshift fashion for present necessities without any provision for the future. Next year the situation will be still more acute, and it will continue to become worse as the population of the city grows and as our people see the advantages of high school education for their children. Are we then to continue crowding all our available school space to capacity, and buying up unsuitable and unsatisfactory buildings here, there and everywhere until the high school is scattered so as to make successful work impossible? To do this very long would entail an expense which would more than build a new and adequate high school, and it would entail a degree of inconvenience and inefficiency that would leave a costly heritage to future citizens.

The school authorities of former days did not figure on the future growth of the city and we are reaping the reward of their shortsightedness. Schools are absolutely essential and though there may be a shortage of money for the most pressing municipal necessities, money must be found for the maintenance of adequate school buildings while a city retains its name. There seems to be no serious shortage of money for the more purely political policies of our municipal heads, but they seem ready to adopt any specious subterfuge that postpones monetary outlay for school requirements as long as possible.

There is no minimizing the fact that this school question is a big one, but ignoring it does not help to make it less important.

The taxpayers have always been anxious to meet every demand for better educational facilities, but certain city officials give precedence to other and less essential undertakings with the result that our high school is being conducted under extreme disadvantages.

WAR THE DESTROYER

It has been stated over and over again that the present war is a losing game for every nation involved in it, and nothing is more true. Every soldier killed represents a monetary loss of almost $20,000 and this phase of the struggle alone will leave a terrible financial burden on Germany, France, England, Austria and every power that is directly engaged in the conflict. Yet this phase of the destruction of war is slight compared with the other losses—the losses in brains, in enterprise, in national vitality, in science, in art, in all that goes to build up national prosperity. Then, too, there is the loss in commercial prestige, in manufacture, in every industrial line of endeavor, in invention, in those things that had made Germany the most successful nation in times of peace. It is a loss that cannot be summed up in words, or understood, but it is a loss that will impose a heavy burden on every man, woman and child in the war nations for generations to come.

At the present time in the armies of France, Germany and England are men of great genius, intellectual attainments, inventive originality. From the ranks of the writers, educators, scientists, manufacturers, business and professional men have swarmed individuals who have made the world richer or who would have made the world richer had peace blessed their careers. No longer do they think on the human need which their enterprise or ability was to supply. With rifle and bayonet and bullet they are like beasts of prey, every nerve alert with an awful desire, to kill an enemy who may be dowered with like ability. War was the terrible agency which worked the transformation and civilization falls so much backward. One writer calls the armies "hosts of lost identity" and surely no one can measure the magnitude of that which has been lost with the identity of the frenzied fighters.

The great Pope Leo and his illustrious successor often declared that war is the fruit of irreligion; the socialist says that it is due to ignorance of its economic aspect. To whatever it may be due, the world sees it now in no false light of romance, for it is known as the most dreadful relic of barbarism that has come down from bygone times. The voice of the American people is raised in prayers for peace—not only for this nation but for all the sorely tried and suffering nations of the earth now suffering the dreadful horrors of war.

WAR ATROCITIES

It is yet too early to come to a final decision as to which side has been the more guilty of war atrocities during the present struggle and it is not even safe to accept the stories of excited partisans, but there are certain aspects of the fight for which even the exigencies of war at its worst do not offer justification. The dropping of bombs on cities which are non-belligerent, the carrying of the enemies standard, the ruthless slaughter of non-combatants, abuse of women and children and many other things which have been charged by the respective sides against their opponents shock the civilized world, but there are doubtless episodes in the present war more terrible than imagination can conceive. To appeal to the Hague seems like a joke when the slenderness of the Hague ideal has been demonstrated and all the warring powers seem most desirous of cultivating the sympathy of this country. The letters from the Kaiser and English officials to President Wilson and the visiting Belgian delegation prove how anxious all concerned are for the good opinion of America, but they should and undoubtedly will be listened to with respectful and silent attention. Official comment on their contents should be reserved until the war is over and until an unbiased commission has weighed the claims of the contending parties.

STREET MENDING

Apocryph of our honeycombed streets, travelers who have toured over the roads along the north shore can bear witness to the fact that a cavity or depression of any kind is a rarity, and any interested Lowell citizen who may be in that section can see for himself how the thoroughfare is kept in condition. When any break or hollow in the surface is discovered a repair gang is rushed to the scene, a prepared composition is poured into the hollow, crushed stone is put on top and over the whole is poured more of the binder. In a few days the repaired part is as good as new.

The Lowell way has been either to neglect the damage until it becomes a miniature valley with several others in the vicinity or to throw in crushed stone which auto traffic scatters as quickly as it is laid. Loose filling is worthless under present traffic conditions and the only scientific way to remedy street defects is to patch them with some plastic composition that will form part of the original surface on drying. Were this done consistently in Lowell as in other cities we should not have to appeal for street conditions that have become a menace and a civic disgrace.

CAMPAIGN DRIVE

Some of the campaign issues voiced by republican politicians throughout the country are the varied drive, and the strain that gave them birth in this time of triumph for the administration is painfully evident. The war has thrown the achievements of the democratic party into grateful relief, and there is not a national issue that reflects adversely on those in power. The tariff, the currency, the Mexican situation, the foreign service, all have been vindicated wholly or in part by recent developments, and there is a general feeling that to attempt to lower the prestige of the president and his advisers is futile. It is a wise republican politician who confines himself to petty local issues and refrains from attacking the democratic administration at present. In that quarter every knock is a boost.

SEEN AND HEARD

Some time ago, Congressman Owen of Oklahoma said, little Jimmy's fond father brought him a chameleon, and for several days thereafter great was the excitement around the suburban home. One evening, on returning from work, and noticed that the chameleon wasn't included in the family circle. "Where's your chameleon, Jimmy?" he inquired. "He's gone father," was the response. "Why, what do you mean?" asked father. "Did he escape?" "No, father," exclaimed Jimmy. "I put him on a piece of blue cloth and he turned blue. Then I put him on a piece of red cloth and he turned red. Then I put him on a piece of green cloth and he turned green. Then I put him on a piece of plaid cloth and he looked trying to make good."

SALISBURY BEACH IMPROVED

A year ago Wednesday Salisbury beach was swept by the disastrous fire which, when the heart of the resort and left a pile of ruins over what had been a popular amusement center. Since the fire the beach has undergone a remarkable change. New buildings have been erected in place of those destroyed by the blaze, and the first anniversary of the fire finds the beach rebuilt with all its old and many new attractions, presenting a much improved appearance and retaining all the popularity of the old resort. The property owners have made wonderful progress in rebuilding the beach, but all that they are not yet satisfied and have planned numerous improvements which will be evident at the resort in a few weeks. Everything is being done to make the beach bigger, better and busier than ever before and though the business men have encountered many difficulties they have not hesitated in devoting all their available time and money in reestablishing their stores and lending their support to all plans for the improvement of the beach.

THE LOCOMOTIVE

Poor old locomotive! It traveled years ago As handsome as a wagon in a moral month show. Its engine and its loading brought us much joy and fear. The towns took up collections to persuade it to draw near. Its troubles came from water, which upset its system some. Since water is so common in more dangerous than rum. Its habits grew extravagant. It spent more than it should. The company it sometimes found was not so very good.

Poor old locomotive! It has hauled on its heels. When it does a job of hauling consternation it reveals. We can't help sympathizing as its story it relates. As it reaches for a handout in the form of higher rates.

HINDUS IN SCRAP

The arrival of the Hindu contingent from France, says the Toronto Globe, brings a welcome addition to the allied forces now holding back the invading Germans. How many of them Lord Kitchener will bring over on one of this side of the Atlantic, perhaps no one on the other side knows. What is well known to all who are familiar with historical and contemporary conditions in Hindustan is that the Sikh soldiers will always and everywhere give a good account of themselves. They belong to the finest of the many Indian races. Their country—the Punjab—was annexed to Britain.

HAVE YOU NEURASTHENIA?

Neurasthenia is a condition of exhaustion of the nervous system. The causes are varied. Continuous work, mental or physical, without proper vacation periods, without proper attention to diet and exercise, also worry over the struggles for success, are the most common causes. Excesses of almost any kind may produce it. Some diseases, like the grip, will cause neurasthenia. So also will a severe shock, intense anxiety or grief. The symptoms are over-sensitiveness, irritability, a disposition to worry over trifles, headache, possibly nausea.

The treatment is one of nutrition of the nerve cells, requiring a non-toxic, tonic. As the nervous system's nourishment from the blood the treatment must be directed toward building up the blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills act directly on the blood and with proper regulation of the diet have proved of the greatest benefit in many cases of neurasthenia. A tendency to anemia, or bloodlessness, shown by past nervousness, or if the blood is also corrected by these tonic pills. Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Two useful books "Diseases of the Nervous System" and "What to Eat and How to Eat" will be sent free by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., if you mention this paper.

ish India in 1849 after two fierce wars, but so much progress was made during the next few years in making British administration acceptable to them that by the Indian Mutiny of 1857 they took the side of Great Britain against the mutinous Sepoys of Oudh and other provinces, and did no one can say how much to enable Great Britain to retain control of the whole country. Lord Kitchener knows these troops well, and they know him for he served as commander-in-chief in India from 1902 to 1909. Their military exploits in the allied army will be watched with deep interest by both British and French comrades in arms, and not less so by the Algerians from French Africa.

WHAT UNSEXES HER

It doesn't unsex her to toil in a factory. Minding the loom from the dawn till the night. To deal with a schoolful of children doesn't unsex her in any one's sight. Work in a store—where her back aches inhumanly—Doesn't unsex her at all, you will note. But think how exceedingly rough and unwomanly Woman would be if she happened to vote!

To sweat in a laundry that's torrid and terribler. Doesn't subtract from her womanly charm. And sometimes the bags in an echoing corridor. Doesn't unsex her—so where is the harm? It doesn't unsex her to nurse us with bravery. Lousiness death's hand from its grip on the throat. But, oh, how the voices grow quivery. Walling: "Alas, 'twill unsex her to vote!"

She's feminine still when she juggles the crockery. Bringing you blithely the order you tell. Tell in a sweatshop where life is a mockery. Just for a pittance on which she can live—That doesn't seem to unsex her a particle. "Labor is noble"—so somebody wrote. But ballots are known as a dangerous article. Woman's unsexed if you give her the vote.

SPENT THE SUMMER

SAVING MONEY — WELLESLEY GIRLS HURSTLE TO GET FUNDS FOR NEW BUILDING

BOSTON, Sept. 14.—"How much did you make? How did you make it?" These are the questions that are filling the minds of Wellesley girls just now and that will resound through the old campus when college opens next Monday, for every Wellesley girl has been working her very hardest this summer to earn as much money as she could for the Wellesley building fund, and every girl is eager to learn how all her particular friends did their parts.

It was announced last spring, soon after the burning of College Hall, Wellesley's main building, that $750,000 would be given for the rebuilding of the college building, the rest of the necessary $2,000,000 before Jan. 1, 1915. As soon as the news was made public all the college fudge parties became serious councils of war, and every girl debated earnestly within herself how she was to help make the needed total. The 1915 girls agreed each to bring back $35 at the end of the summer.

Girls Busy All Summer. During the long vacation months the girls have been busy carrying out their plans, for they are eager to bring in the harvest. Already some of the news of the summer campaign has floated in to Miss Margaret Griffin, last year's Junior president, and she can tell of curious ways in which college girls have put themselves to work.

One girl, a very dainty and pretty young lady, prominent in college society, undertook the family housework

for the summer. She requested her mother to dismiss the regular housemaid and to pay her the maid's salary, with an increase of a dollar a week. She is bringing back a snug sum of money.

Another organized a vaudeville show near Concord, N. H., where she was staying, and made $35. A 1914 girl gave a large dance in the same neighborhood with good success. "A good deal of money has been earned by girls who organized regular college stunts at the summer places where they were staying," says Miss Griffin. "People love to do 'college' things, you know. A couple of girls made $25 by having a 'bacon bat' that simply means they invited people to campfire suppers in the woods and allowed them to fry bacon on sticks. "People bought snapshots of typical Wellesley scenes, too, and were over so good about attending the moving picture shows of the college events that we had taken last spring."

Some Good Vacuum Cleaners. "A good many 1915 girls took advantage of an opportunity that we obtained to sell vacuum cleaners at a commission of $17, and the 1915 girls sold a lot of pencils. These had Wellesley College Restoration Fund" printed across them. "And then—oh, there have been innumerable adds and ends of ways of gaining money. Girls have sewed, and crocheted cords for underwear, and auctioned off various belongings. Everyone has taken every opportunity possible to make a little, although it has been our rule not to force gifts or subscriptions from people. At the beginning of the summer the class of 1915 had turned in $14,000 and much more will come in next week. The class has pledged herself to bring $100 to the class treasury next June. Six hundred and twenty-five dollars remains to be raised, and this the girls are determined to make before the new year."

SUNDAY CHURCH EVENTS

REV. C. R. SKINNER SAID FAREWELL TO FLOCK—INTERESTING SERVICE AT FIRST BAPTIST

Rev. Clarence R. Skinner, who has given up the pastorate of the Grace Universalist church of this city to accept a professorship at Tufts college, said his farewell service yesterday. The auditorium was well filled and the words of the pastor touched deeply the members of the church. The sermon was preached by Rev. Howard B. Bard of San Diego, Cal.

Rev. Mr. Skinner had been stationed in Lowell for a number of years and it was with sorrow that his parishioners heard of his intention to enter another field.

Union Meeting of Swedish Churches. Union meetings of members of the Swedish Congregational and Methodist churches of this city will be held throughout the month of October, and for three union sessions each week, beginning on Thursday night, October 1. The nights on which the meetings will be held are Tuesdays and Sundays, and they will be held alternately in the two churches. The pastors, Rev. John Elinen and Rev. Edwin T. Stromberg, will conduct the services.

Centralville M. E. The first fall meeting of the Boy Scouts will be held at 7:30 o'clock this evening. At 8:45 o'clock Thursday the regular choir rehearsal will be held and on Friday evening, at 7:30 o'clock, there will be a special meeting of the Sunday school board.

Ellet Church. At the Ellet church the pastor announced that rally Sunday would be held Sept. 27 to be followed by a week of prayer.

The Young People's society also resumed its meetings in the vestry at 5:30 o'clock. Miss Mary Richardson led the meeting, the topic being "What is a Good Education?"

The pastor conducted a service at the Old Ladies' Home in the afternoon.

First Baptist Church. Rev. J. E. Dinmore, assistant pastor, preached the sermon at the First Baptist church yesterday. The announcements for the week included the reunion of the teachers and officers of the Sunday school on Thursday evening when the address will be given by Mr. H. V. Meyer of Boston.

An interesting feature of the Sunday school session at the First Baptist church yesterday was the showing by Mr. W. T. Shepard of a genuine gold lamp that he obtained in Jerusalem two years ago, one similar to those used in Palestine in the time of Christ, and referred to in the lesson for the day on the Ten Virgins. Mr. Shepard told an interesting story about the lamp and also showed two coins, one a denarius or penny, and the other a mite, such as were referred to in another lesson of two weeks ago.

St. Anne's Church. At St. Anne's church yesterday Rev. Appleton Grants preached a sermon appropriate to the season. He announced that the Sunday school would open next Sunday at noon and the full choir will sing on the church lawn for twenty minutes before the evening service.

Rev. Mr. Grants conducted a service at No. 1111 Erie St. last night with a large attendance. He spoke upon some problems of the war. The new building will be completed in six weeks or the middle of October and will be formally opened soon after.

ITALIANS CELEBRATING BOSTON, Sept. 14.—A three days' celebration of the Feast of St. Anthony is being held by the Italians of Roxbury. The celebration began Saturday evening with a band concert. The Italian district, in the vicinity of St. Anthony's church, Roxbury street, has been beautifully decorated and last evening was illuminated.

Yesterday the celebration continued with a high mass at 10 o'clock in charge of the Rev. Fr. Ernest Rovin, pastor of the church. In the afternoon there was a parade and in line were the members of the Holy Name society of St. Anthony's, the Daughters of Maria and the Mt. Carmine society. In the evening there was a band concert. Tonight the excelsus will come with a band concert and fireworks.

WAS BADLY INJURED BOSTON, Sept. 14.—While crossing Washington street, near Palmer street, Roxbury, last night, Mrs. Mary Conners, 45, of 60 Magazine street, Roxbury, was run over by a horse attached to a buggy, and sustained lacerations about the face.

Two men, who were in the buggy at the time, left the woman helpless in the street and rode away. She was taken to the City hospital.

RED CROSS SHIP SAILS

WITH 30 SURGEONS AND 125 NURSES FOR THE EUROPEAN WAR FIELD NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—The steamer Red Cross, bound on errand of mercy to the European war zone, left her anchorage in Gravesend bay at 6:08 a. m. yesterday, and shortly before 6 o'clock was on her way to sea past the sandy Hook bar.

It was after many delays that the big white ship which is conveying doctors, nurses and supplies to the European war field, finally put to sea on her trans-Atlantic trip. Difficulties over the makeup of her crew, due to the fear of international complications, has at last been smoothed out.

As the Red Cross steamed down the bay with her red crosses gleaming in the sunset and her flags fluttering, the whistles of all sorts of water craft joined in a farewell chorus. Along the rail were massed the blue coated nurses forming a solid blue band above the white of the ship's side and the belt of red just below her deck.

The Red Cross carries 125 trained nurses and 30 surgeons, and an equipment of thousands of pounds of absorbent cotton, bandages, drugs and surgical instruments. Her first stop will be at Palmouth, Eng.

SERIOUS LOSS TO Y.W.C.A.

A load of furniture, the property of the Lowell Y. W. C. A., was destroyed by fire late Saturday afternoon while it was being removed from the association's summer camp in Billerica to the quarters in John street, this city. The loss will amount to about $300.

The furniture was being removed by J. H. McDonald of this city, who owns a large motor moving van. The furniture had been packed on the truck and the chauffeur was about to start his machine when the engine back fired and the rear end of the load caught fire. The men in charge of the van at-

LATE WAR BULLETINS

SERBIAN OFFENSIVE MOVEMENT SUCCESSFUL

NISH, Serbia, Sept. 14.—The Serbian offensive movement continues successfully on the left bank of the Sava. No important developments along the lower Drina have been reported since the Serbian victory of September 9.

GERMANS SENDING REINFORCEMENTS

PARIS, Sept. 14.—A Havas Agency despatch from Petrograd says that the Germans are sending important reinforcements to the fortress of Menel (the northernmost town of the German empire on the Baltic north-east of Königsberg) which threatens Tilsit.

The Russian imperial council is examining laws for the administration of conquered Prussian and Austrian territory.

WHEAT AFFECTED BY VICTORIES OF ALLIES

CHICAGO, Sept. 14.—Important victories of the allies, accepted by the grain trade as tending to shorten the war, caused an extreme decline of 4 1-2 cents in the price of wheat on the board of trade here at the opening day.

The extreme drop was in wheat for delivery next May. This option, which at the climax of the war excitement sold at $1.12, closed Saturday at $1.20. This morning the price declined to $1.15 1-2.

ALLIES KEEPING IN CONTACT WITH ENEMY AND CROSS RIVER

PARIS, Sept. 14.—The retreat of the armies of Generals Von Kluck and Von Bülow continued at last accounts with considerable rapidity. The only official comment last night was that the allies were keeping in contact with the enemy and had crossed the river Aisne.

The whereabouts of the Germans was not revealed, but it was said that they did not intend to make a stand on the line from Rheims to Soissons and it is hardly likely, it is thought here, that they will halt their retreat before reaching Belgium. They have already made two-thirds of the distance from Provins, in the department of Seine-et-Marne, to the frontier. The heavy rains of Saturday and Sunday are not likely to facilitate the movement of the famous 420 millimeter mortars that were to reduce Paris and which require forty hours to draw them.

The armies of Generals Von Hausen and the Prince of Wuertemberg, which constituted the center, seem to be headed toward Reims and Metz, though part of this force is reported as still retreating to the south end of the forest of Argonne.

It was reported last night that the armies of the crown prince, the prince of Bavaria and General Von Heeringer had been forced across the frontier and that the entire territory of French Lorraine had been liberated.

This disposition of the German armies, if confirmed, makes another concentration in France, as suggested by certain critics, impossible. It leaves Generals Von Kluck and Von Bülow badly pursued by the allies and menaced by an enveloping movement on the left and without hope of reinforcements except perhaps from the 60,000 troops which occupy Belgium. The latest news from Antwerp, however, shows that these are likely to be needed there to stand off the offensive movement taken by King Albert's army. Taken altogether the situation here is viewed with equanimity and the government is busy itself with ways and means for reviving trade and commerce.

GERMANS IN COMPLETE ROUT CAN NOT FIND A BREATHING PLACE

LONDON, Sept. 14.—The correspondent of the Times at Bordeaux suggests that the German rout is deepening into complete disaster; that the invaders are turning homeward by way of the Argonne and south of Verdun, and that the German army is in a position in which even their escape will be at a heavy price.

"The German rout is so complete that it is more than doubtful whether the enemy will be able to find a breathing place on the only likely position which runs through Peronne and St. Quentin. The enemy is making for a line of retreat through Charleville and Metz, and is doing the homeward journey in record time."

AMERICAN CONSUL WILL ASK FOR RELEASE OF CAPTURED TRADERS

PEKING, Sept. 14.—At the request of the Japanese legation, the American legation has instructed William R. Peck, the American consul at Tientsin, to employ his good offices in behalf of two captured traders who sailed their vessels into Kiao Chow not knowing that war had been declared. The Germans declare that the Japanese have stationed a patrol at Pingtu, Shantung.

The Japanese legation discredits Chinese reports of difficulties between the Chinese inhabitants and the Japanese troops that have landed in Chinese territory. The legation says the Japanese commanders are instructed to compensate with cash any damage to Chinese farms and other property.

Advices received here today state that a Japanese hydro-aeroplane flew over Tientsin twice during last week. It was always out of range and dropped several bombs, one of which burst near the government house, but only broke windows.

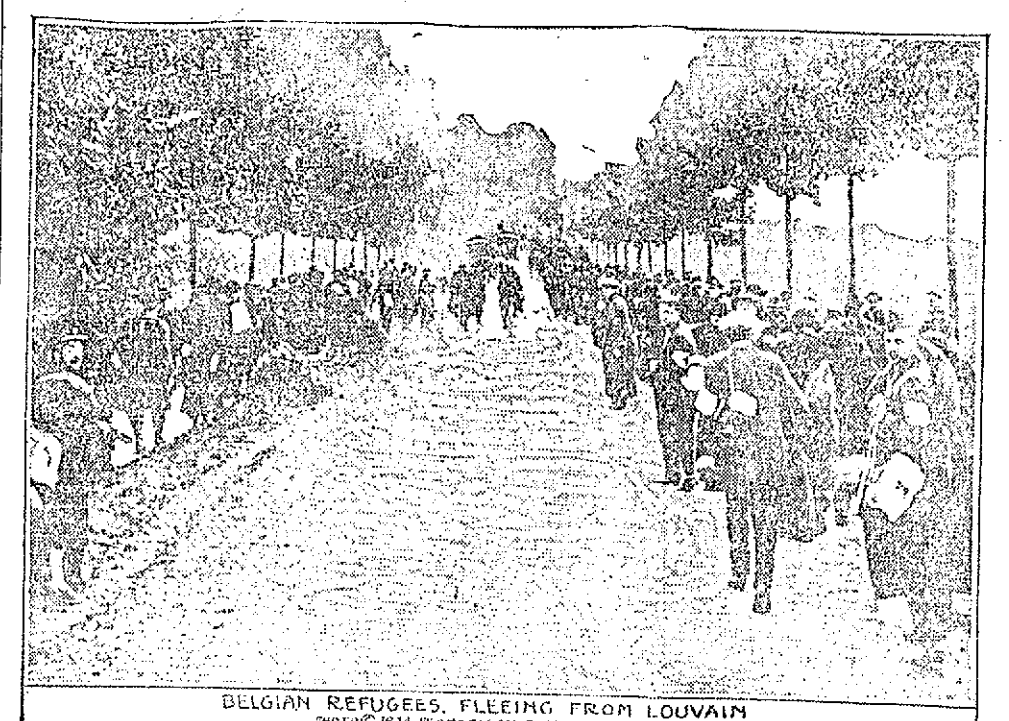

TIMES CORRESPONDENT SAYS ALLIES LED OPONENTS STRAIGHT INTO A TRAP

LONDON, Sept. 14.—A Times correspondent, telegraphing from five miles south of Provins in the department of Seine-et-Marne, says:

"I have traveled to this point practically along the whole line of the allied army, though, of course, always in the rear. General Von Kluck's host in coming down upon the Marne and the Grand Marne rivers to Soissons, 20 miles southwest of Epernay, met little opposition and I believe little opposition was expected. The allies, in fact, led their opponents straight into a trap. The English cavalry led the tired Germans mile after mile and the Germans believed the Englishmen were running away. When the tremendous advance reached Provins the allies' plan was accomplished and it got no further."

"The fighting on Sunday, Sept. 6, was of a terrible character and began at dawn in the region of La Roche. The allies troops who were drawn up to receive the Germans, understood it would be their duty to hold on their very best in order that their attacking force at Meaux might achieve its task in security. The battle lasted all night and

BELGIAN REFUGEES, FLEEING FROM LOUVAIN

Fleeing before the invading Germans noncombatant Belgians are here seen on the road from Louvain to Tirlemont. They find the road by the hundreds, some carrying in small sacks all their worldly possessions. Many of the men wore Red Cross bands on their arms. The Germans burned their homes at Louvain.

BIG GRIST IN POLICE COURT

MAYNARD MAN IN FOR VAGRANCY—LARCENY OF MOTORCYCLE CHARGED

Quite a large gathering of Saturday night and Sunday drunks presented themselves in police court before Judge Enright this morning.

William Cogan was the first called on a charge of illegal selling and his case was continued until Friday.

William Haywood, who the I. W. W. leader faced his honor on a charge of drunkenness and begging in the square, laywood testified that he came here to find work in the Bay State mills but was unable to do so. He told the court that he resided in Maynard and that he had always been a working man and would go back to Maynard if offered the opportunity. His story must have appealed to His Honor, who gave him a six months' suspended sentence.

Stole a Motorcycle
The case of Jeremiah M. Dorgan, charged with stealing a motorcycle, the property of one Emil Lebrun, was continued until Wednesday morning. He was asked to furnish bonds in the sum of $500. It seems that Dorgan went to St. Louis to get a motorcycle, and on the pretense of doing some repairs on a motorcycle belonging to Emil Lebrun, took it away with him. This was the last seen of him up to last Saturday. Lebrun reported the case to the police and as a result Sergeant Petrie made a trip to Lawrence and found Dorgan at the home of a relative. His urgent request Dorgan was arrested by the downriver officials and later brought to this city. The prisoner admitted taking the machine and informed the officers that he motored from Lowell to Providence, R. I., where he sold the machine for the sum of $1. From Providence he traveled on freight trains to Lawrence, arriving at the latter place Friday night.

Drunkenness and Nonsupport
Philip Jalbert made his second appearance before Judge Enright on a charge of drunkenness and in the course of the testimony it was brought out that the man had a wife and child to whom he was not contributing the proper support. Judge Enright finally succeeded in convincing him that he was in the wrong and in view of the fact that it was better to pay over money to his wife than to the court, he was given a six months' suspended sentence and was told to see Probation Officer Slattery about arrangements.

Man With Many Names
John Tracy made his third appearance before the court on a charge of drunkenness. It seems that every time that Tracy has been arrested he has taken the liberty of using some one else's name. On his first appearance it was John Sullivan. The second time he gave the name of Doyle and this morning he gave the name of Tracy. The number of aliases did not seem to please His Honor and he was sentenced to the state farm at Bridgewater. He appealed.

Stole Pork
James G. Gannon was arrested charged with drunkenness and larceny of 12 pounds of pork, the property of a man named Kelak. He pleaded guilty to both charges and was sent to jail for four months. The charge of drunkenness was placed on file.

Thomas M. Cox put up a strenuous argument when he was called to plead to a charge of vagrancy. His argument, however, proved unavailing, but inasmuch as he promised to go out of town he was given a six months' suspended sentence to the state farm in Bridgewater.

Alfred Suprenant was called to answer to a charge of vagrancy. Judge Enright deemed it expedient that he should at once submit to treatment and he was sent to Bridgewater.

James O'Neil pleaded guilty to a

SURVIVORS ARE RESCUED

FROM FROZEN ISLAND—EIGHT WHITE MEN AND ESKIMO FAMILY SAFE ON CUTTER

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—Eight white men and an Eskimo family, survivors of the wrecked Canadian exploring ship Karluk, are safe aboard the revenue cutter Bear, after being marooned on frozen Wrangell Island since last January.

A relaying wireless despatch from the Bear received here last night said she was due at Nome, Alaska, yesterday.

The despatch told of the death of three explorers on the island, George S. Mitchell, geologist; Bjorne Blum, assistant topographer, and John Brady, seaman.

Capt. Cochran, report said: "Bear is now returning to Nome with the following members of the Canadian Arctic expedition: "Munro, Williamson, McKibben, Hadley, Chaf, Templeman, Williams, Munro, Eskimo family."

"All doing well under care of surgeon. Will arrive Nome Sunday. "Party was rescued by commander King and Wing on Sept. 7. Transferred to Bear Sept. 8, lat. 69 degrees 55 minutes north; long. 175 degrees 30 minutes west."

"Matlock and Nansen died of nephritis. Brady accidentally shot. There are eight missing persons who never reached Wrangell Island. "The Bear reached within 12 miles of Herald Island. Clear weather and heavy ice. Unable to land on the island, but saw no signs of life."

HAYVERHILL WORKER DESPONDENT OVER THE DEATH OF HIS WIFE

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—Joseph Gugenheim, 60, a former superintendent of the city stables at Concord, N. H., committed suicide at a 10 o'clock yesterday morning at Emory's stables, where he was employed, by putting a bullet through his brain.

Saturday night, at his lodgings at 12 Years' street, before going to his work, Gugenheim collected a number of newspapers, among which were a photograph of his wife and himself, certificates of membership in the Odd Fellows, Knights of Pythias and Red Men.

At 5 o'clock yesterday morning the body of Gugenheim was found on a couch at the stables where he had committed suicide. Despondency over the death of his wife, who died several years ago, is the probable cause of his act. According to remarks made by him some time ago he made a suicidal unsuccessful attempt at suicide shortly after the death of his wife.

He is survived by a son who lives at Lebanon, N. H., and a married daughter at Proctor, N. H. These two are on their way to claim the body.

CARDINAL FARLEY ILL
LONDON, Sept. 14.—A despatch to the Daily Chronicle from Milan says Cardinal Farley, who was taken seriously ill at Naples Saturday when about to embark for New York, has been removed to Amalfi.

The cardinal's condition is said to be such that he has been compelled to abandon all ideas of a speedy return to the United States. He is said to be suffering from heart trouble.

Misses Edith Murphy and Julia Mayes are spending a few days in New York.

MIKE MITCHELL OF WASHINGTON IS BATTLING FOR BATTING LEADERSHIP

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—Joe Jackson has a rival for the leadership of the American league in batting, and Mike Mitchell, once with Cincinnati, but now wearing a Washington uniform, is the rival. 2 KILLED AND 18 INJURED

Is the Sunday Accident Toll—One Accident on Water—Others Due to Automobile Troubles

BOSTON, Sept. 14.—Two dead and six dangerously hurt as the result of Sunday accidents to recreation seekers in New England. Twelve other persons sustained minor injuries that will serve to remind them for some time of their day of rest.

Because of the lateness of the season, only one accident on the water, a drowning at Mansfield, appears in the day's news. The other accidents were due to automobile troubles. One death resulted from an automobile accident in the White Mountains, when a car turned turtle.

Two men were badly hurt when three blow-outs caused a car to overturn at North Attleboro, and detective starting gear caused a car to capsize at Canton in which two women were badly hurt, one fatally. Two persons were run down by machines in Worcester.

The other injuries were of minor importance.

THREE THROWN FROM AUTO

NORTH ATTLEBORO, Sept. 14.—Three successive blow-outs caused an automobile accident on the state road here yesterday in which two men were badly injured.

With the front blow-out, the machine, a heavy touring car, swerved to one side of the road. The second blow-out caused it to turn sharply around, and the third caused it to flip. The occupants were thrown clear when it turned turtle.

All the blow-outs came within half a minute, and the driver, Michael Higgins, of 552 Broad street, Central Falls, was unable to control the car. He was unhurt, however.

His companions were William Colman and Anthony Sassech, both of 353 High street, Central Falls. Colman sustained a bad scalp wound, concussion of the brain and severe cuts and bruises. The other man had a scalp wound, a broken arm and numerous cuts and bruises. The machine was wrecked.

AUTO TURNS TURTLE

CANTON, Sept. 14.—While on their way from Dedham to Hartford to attend the M. C. U. Foresters' convention, Mr. and Mrs. Walter O'Neill and two small children of Canton street, and Miss Anna Costello of Hany street, Brockton, were seriously injured when their automobile turned turtle on the state road here yesterday morning. The occupants were thrown out when the steering gear broke and the car turned completely over in the gutter. Mrs. O'Neill was in a dying condition and at once come to Lowell any time and run any one in the world in a five-mile or a ten-mile race. Kyrone has made quite a record since he started running in Lowell a few years ago. He was first seen at Cumbria lake last year when he won the five-mile race, the same year he won the five-mile race on the running grounds and then again last July he captured the ten-mile race. In the Boston Marathon race last April he led Duffy, the winner, the first 15 miles and finished well up to the front. Since going to Brooklyn he has improved wonderfully and only last week broke the five-mile record at Baltimore, Md., in the junior championships of the Amateur Athletic union. The record at that time for the five-mile was 24 minutes, 54.5 seconds. Kyrone did the distance in 23 minutes, 29.5 seconds.

A race between Kyrone and H. B. Weeks of the Irish American association of Boston who won the New England championship at Rockingham last recently, would attract thousands of people to the running park on Columbus day and the running club will use every endeavor to get both of these men to enter and have them start from scratch. Other good five-mile runners, including our own local champion, George Gahagan of the C. M. A. C., would render good service by the local handicapper so as the scratch men will have to go all the way from the crack of the pistol.

This will be the last open event of the season at the Running club grounds. Soccer football is now the attraction and will be so until the snow falls.

The directors of the Running club will make preparations to handle a big crowd on Columbus day. The day state Ry. Co. will be asked to give ample service to all who desire to ride out to Running park that day, as many out-of-town people will come to Lowell that day to see the star performers.

Every encouragement should be given to the Running club in their endeavor to revive out-door athletic sports. They have expended and will spend considerable money in bringing the best runners of this city and its up to the Lowell public to show their appreciation by patronizing this last event of the season.

BIG ATHLETIC EVENT

WILL TAKE PLACE AT RUNNING CLUB ON COLUMBUS DAY—VALUABLE PRIZES OFFERED

The Running club, through its athletic committee, is again making preparations for another big athletic carnival which is scheduled for Oct. 12, Columbus day.

The committee has already decided upon the list of sports which is as follows: One hundred yards dash, 220 yards dash, 440 yards dash, 880 yards dash, 1760 yards dash, one mile relay race (four men to a team), one mile run and a five-mile run. All of the events will be handicap with the exception of the one-mile relay race.

The committee has decided to offer six gold watches, eight cups (silver and bronze), two traveling bags, two clocks, two lamps, two umbrellas, two shaving sets and military brushes for prizes.

At a meeting of the committee Saturday evening it was voted to invite the following athletic clubs to send representatives to compete in the event: Boston Athletic association, Irish American association of Boston, Phoenix of Boston, Dorchester Athletic association of Dorchester, and the Brookline Gymnasium club of Brookline, Mass.

Each of these clubs is expected to enter a team in the relay race and there is considerable rivalry between the R. A. A. and the I. A. A. This event will be well worth witnessing.

In the short distance races the best in the state will be on hand to catch the valuable prizes offered by the Running club and it will be the last chance this season to see such men as T. J. Halpin, R. J. Greene, H. H. Seward, L. T. Prescott and F. T. Donahue of the R. A. A.; Fred Palmer, Jas. Henahan and Festus Madden of the Dorchester Athletic association.

The management of the Irish American association has promised to send its star athletes to Lowell and they will once more compete for supremacy on the track with the R. A. A. Some of the best runners in the country are now running under the I. A. A. colors and the Running club management is fortunate in being able to bring to Lowell such an aggregation of star athletes.

The five-mile race is expected to be the star event and already the management is looking round to being the best in the country to compete in this event. Willie Kyrone, the Finnish flyer who won the last ten mile race on the Running grounds is surely expected to enter as he informed the management last July that he would

Winning Wager—South Boston Man Jumps From Window

BOSTON, Sept. 14.—Stava Brodka and Rodman Law have nothing on John Mouski, of 257 Broadway, South Boston. Mouski proved it yesterday morning when one of his companions at a party at 192 C street wagered him a small bet of $1 that he would not dare to jump out of the window. Mouski "did a brodie."

Before drifting into the discussion of the bravery of Stava Brodka and Rodman Law, the members of the party, several in number, grew heated while considering the press reports of the war.

Then the subject swung off to the bravery of the aviator, who are piloting the French and German airships. Mouski didn't think much of the valor of the aviator.

"They got it soft and don't run any chances," he said. "They have lots of money to move about in a night's time. I don't see how they can be so stupid as to go out and risk their necks for a few dollars."

"Look at the number of airships. Look at the number of men who go up in them and don't get hurt," he said. "They take any risks," scoffed Mouski.

This got one of the party riled.

"Your name, Mouski," expostulated the riled one. "These guys do take chances. Look at the bunch of them killed during the war. They got run over by a train, and a big was laid to hold them up all right, but it's a long way home if they leave the ship before it touches the ground."

"Look at the distance they sail in," he said. "Believe me, I'd rather go to the bottom of the sea than to go to the ground, I'd be so scared to go."

"Whose name?" asked Rodman John. "Why, looked here. I was up at Brookline Fair last week and I saw this guy, Law, do his brodie from his window."

"Why, the guy really said. He gets the only one easy it's a shame to take the money. He goes in an airplane, then himself to a parachute and lands near the treasurer's office."

"Naboo home," said the riled one. "Say, whaddya mean, a snap, Mouski. I'd like to see you jump out a airplane. Like Rodman Law, who jumps out when he ain't got anything but an umbrella and a rope between him and the soft side of a hard road. I'd rather go to the bottom of the sea than to go to the ground, I'd be so scared to go."

"You got my point," said Rodman John to the uncomprehending riled one. "I'd like to see you jump out a airplane. Like Rodman Law, who jumps out when he ain't got anything but an umbrella and a rope between him and the soft side of a hard road. I'd rather go to the bottom of the sea than to go to the ground, I'd be so scared to go."

WAS KNOCKED DOWN

BOSTON, Sept. 14.—Mrs. Jacob Pollock of 22 Newton street, Boston, was knocked down by an automobile owned by James D. Nelson and driven by his son, James H. Nelson, 15 years old, of 20 Barrell street, Melrose, on Massachusetts avenue, Arlington, yesterday. She sustained numerous bruises about the body and scratches on her face and hands.

The police attach no blame to Nelson.

IN WORCESTER HOSPITAL

WORCESTER, Sept. 14.—Two persons were run down by automobiles in or near this city yesterday and are now at the City hospital. The driver of one of the machines, according to the story of the man who was hit, did not see the car until it was too late to avoid hitting her. She was badly hurt.

The first accident caused injuries to Miss Mary Allen, 46, of 51 Crest avenue, Newton City. She was hit by an automobile while crossing Front street on the way to the Union station to take a train home.

Adams Ludlake, driver of the car, says that he tried to avoid hitting her but was unable to do so. She sustained a broken collarbone, several scalp wounds and many body bruises. Ludlake, the police say, though he owns a car, has never taken out a license to drive it. He will have a chance to explain in court tomorrow.

Thomas Murray, 48, of a Blocker street, was hit by an automobile on the Canton road, near the Worcester line, and sustained a concussion and bad scalp wounds. He says that the car was speeding and that he could not avoid it. The driver, he says, made no attempt to aid him.

DARED TO JUMP 20 FEET

"Say, if you want to start something about here, I'll give you a chance. Why don't you jump out a window? If you think it is so soft," he said. "I'd like to see you jump out a airplane. Like Rodman Law, who jumps out when he ain't got anything but an umbrella and a rope between him and the soft side of a hard road. I'd rather go to the bottom of the sea than to go to the ground, I'd be so scared to go."

OPENED THE FALL TERM

WOOD'S BUSINESS COLLEGE GROWING—NEW SCHOOL IN TRADERS' BANK BUILDING

A new institution for commercial training, Wood's Business college, formerly Wood's shorthand school, opened for the fall term today. The new school is located on the top floor of the Traders' Bank building, the principal in Mr. Elliott Wood.

Mr. Wood started with a few short-hand pupils some years ago, and since then has steadily increased his classes until this year he decided to open a day school. The result was the beautifully appointed institution in the Traders' Bank building. The office is furnished in mahogany and the room and curtains are green, contributing a rich effect. It is a fine finished office, and equipped with every modern convenience. Adjoining the office is a recreation room equipped with leather room chairs, where the various chesses, cards, and billiard tables are located. There is also a blackboard in this room. The next room is a large one and is used as a general class room, seating more than forty. There are nine windows in this room alone. The fine lighting, both daylight and artificial, is a most commendable feature throughout.

The school is equipped with a number of machines of various models.

The school opened today with everything favorable, and Mr. Wood and his assistants are most optimistic. Visitors' days were held Thursday, Friday and Saturday and the school was crowded with inquiring people both afternoon and evening on these days.

Supt. Thomas Says 125 Men are Employed on New Filtration Plant—The Contract Awarded

According to the registrars of voters over 500 names will appear on the supplementary check list at the coming state primaries, and this list will be given the printer shortly. During the recent registration sessions 407 registered at the office and several more classed as omitted assessments called at the assessors' office to have their names placed on the check list. Among those who registered are many who will cast their first vote this year, while a number of them had been dropped from the voting list.

The registration by ward was as follows: Ward one, 31; ward two, 100; ward three, 80; ward four, 15; ward six, 51; ward seven, 41; ward eight, 45; ward nine 21.

Filtration Plant

Supt. Morse of the water works department informed The Sun this morning that about 125 men are now at work on the creation of the filtration plant on the boulevard and the work is being pushed along rapidly. The pre-filter and one filter are ready for the concrete and the second filter is nearly finished. The men are now employed on the clear water basin and the excavation which is to be 12 feet has now reached a depth of four feet. The contracts for the cast iron pipe for the job have been awarded to the Standard Pipe Co. and that for the drain pipe has been given to Edward Cawley.

No more men will be hired on the job for some time for the superintendent believes he has as big a gang as the job will stand. More men, he said, will not work to advantage on account of lack of room. In a couple of weeks the four water mains from the boulevard to the inlet at the river at the corner of Standish street and Yarnum avenue will be thoroughly cleaned by the National Pipe Cleaning Co. of New York. This comprises about two miles of 21-inch main.

The city had made arrangements to install a direct heating system, but the state inspector in this city, J. J. Carey, objected to it and, therefore, the matter was left to

This style of Range with the ash pan in front, now is out of date. This new style with ash hod in the base is all the rage.

AND THERE IS A REASON

IN FACT SEVERAL REASONS

One of the main reasons is that it takes less room in the kitchen. You get the same size oven and fire box and instead of the protruding hearth and ash pan in front, you get another shelf on top of the range giving you more room for kettles so that you have a range as large in oven and fire box and larger on top and takes less space, give a better balance, more symmetrical shape stove and of course has all the Crawford Features including single damper, which alone is worth the price of the stove as all using it say. AMONG THE TOILERS

Fred Thomas, formerly of the Talbot mills, North Billerica, succeeds M. J. Pierce as agent of the Day State mills of this city.

Marilyn O'Connell, formerly employed at the Middlesex company, has accepted a position with the J. W. Barry Shoe company.

James Cuff, of the Stirling mills, has expressed his intention of witnessing the Langford-Johnson go, in Boston Tuesday evening.

Michael A. Lee, is as successful in his candidacy for representative as in aiding the carpenters. He will surely garner a large vote. The carpenters are with him to a man.

Peter Golden of the American Hides and Leather company, has decided that the weather is getting a bit too cold for camping. Hence he will be seen around more regularly.

Charlie Thomas, formerly employed at the American Hides and Leather Co., is delighted with the open life that the building trade affords. Charlie is now working for father.

Louise and her three lady friends, all of whom are employed at the U. S. Dining company, thought it quite smart when they unceremoniously blew out the last match of a certain young man possessed after the band concert last evening.

George Grady, of the Lowell Bleachery was among the vast audience of "fans" who witnessed the defeat of the "braves" in Boston Saturday. George is optimistic, however, and predicts that the team will surely be an opposing factor with the Athletics in the world's series.

Osgood Mills
Overtime work four nights a week has been in force for some time at the Osgood mills, North Andover.

Ballardvale Mills
Following a shutdown of three weeks, operations have been resumed at the Ballardvale mills, Ballardvale, Mass.

Naumkeag Helps Salem

The Naumkeag Steam Cotton Co., Salem, Mass., has shown its civic pride in a most unusual manner. In order to relieve the financial straits of the town, the company has agreed to pay the town's tax bill, amounting to $30,183, six weeks before it was due, and more remarkable still, no rebate was asked because of the loss of the plant since April 1, when the bill was paid. The management of the Naumkeag is certainly living up to its reputation for not only doing its duty but a little more.

Moved to Providence

The Union Weaving company, formerly of this city, is now located on the second floor of the Grosvenor building in the Watchmarket section of East Providence. The removal is almost completed, and the manufacture of inside and outside bellings and neck-ties was begun last week.

The concern will employ between 50 and 75 hands and has a payroll of about $400 weekly. The removal is almost completed, and the manufacture of inside and outside bellings and neck-ties was begun last week.

Typographical Union

It is interesting to note that the International Typographical union has increased its membership 1894 in the last year. Local No. 310 of Lowell is in a very solid financial condition and takes a ranking place with the large number of enterprising locals that go to make up this great international union. The Lowell union has been widely advertised in the Typographical Journal, the mouthpiece of the organization which is published monthly, as a result of the convention held in this city a few months ago, for the first time, such has never been surpassed at any other convention of its kind.

Typo-Change Day of Meeting

Lowell Typographical union held a largely attended and enthusiastic meeting in Carpenters hall in the Rouses building yesterday afternoon, with the president in the chair. Three new members were admitted. Committee reports of considerable importance were received and favorably acted upon. Harry Moxley, delegate to the 60th annual convention of the Typographical union, held in Providence, reported on the doings of the convention. The report proved to be most interesting and Delegate Moxley was given a great hand at the close of his remarks. Another important matter considered was the proposition to change the time of holding the regular meetings of the local organization. With a view to increasing the attendance, it was unanimously voted to hold the meetings in the future on the third Saturday evening of each month. A committee was then appointed to arrange for entertainments, speakers or any other social attraction for the enjoyment of the members at the meetings. The committee appointed was as follows: W. E. Turnbull, chairman; C. D. Foster, secretary; Gabriel Andoin, Charles Sheldon, W. H. Taylor, Thomas J. Durkin, James B. Sutton, James W. Matthews, Jr. A splendid program has been arranged for the October meeting.

OFFICIAL REPORT TELLS OF BRITISH CONQUESTS

The Germans, According to Letters Found on Prisoners, Expected to Enter Paris in a Few Days—Retreat a Bitter Disappointment—British Says Germans Were Without Food and Surrendered Easily

PARIS, Sept. 14, 3.19 p. m.—The Germans are retreating everywhere, according to an official statement issued by the war office this afternoon. The right wing and the center of the German forces is being hammered backward toward Berlin, while the allies are forcing them to abandon all the positions which they had established to cover a possible retreat.

The official statement is as follows: First—On our left wing the enemy had prepared to the north of Aisne between Compiègne and Soissons, a line of defense which it was forced to abandon. Some detachments which it had held at Amiens now have retired upon Perrone and St. Quentin.

Second—On the right also the Germans had taken up a defensive position behind Rheims but were unable to hold it. In the Argonne region they turned back toward the north beyond the forest of Belouze and beyond Triaucourt. On the right wing the retreating movement of the Germans is general from Nancy to the Vosges. Yesterday evening French territory in this vicinity had been completely evacuated.

According to advices from Petrograd a Russian army is before the capital, Koenigsberg, but Russian official advices two days ago stated that their forces were bombarding Koenigsberg.

According to German reports the initial success of General Hindenberg in East Prussia which has been admitted in Petrograd was followed by further German triumphs to the south of Koenigsberg. The Belgian army operating from Antwerp is represented as harassing the Germans in that district to prevent the two German army corps there moving south to the aid of the German main line. Belgian official reports admit that their forces were obliged to retire after a counter attack, by the Germans.

The Servians claim continued successes against Austria, the greater part of whose armies are engaged with the Russians to the north.

GERMANY LIBERATES RUSSIAN PRISONERS

LONDON, Sept. 14.—A despatch to the Central News from Petrograd, dated Sunday, says it is reported from Bucharest that a panic occurred in Vienna on receipt of the news of the capture of Semlin by the Serbians and that thousands of unemployed are parading the streets of the capital.

The military stores and even the stocks of uniforms proved to be insufficient, the correspondent says, and as a result the third levy of reservists are going to the frontier in civilian attire. Russians to the number of 2500 liberated from captivity in Germany have arrived in Petrograd by way of Finland. It is stated that the reason for this liberation is that the German exchequer is too depleted to admit of their being kept.

POPE SENDS NOTE TO KING GEORGE

ROME (via Paris), Sept. 13.—A despatch from Turin quotes the Stampa as saying that Cardinal Bourne, archbishop of Westminster, is the bearer of a letter from the pope to King George which is filled with sympathy for the British nation, which is described as the "Guardian of Peace and Master of Justice."

The Stampa adds that the pope asked the Austrian and German ambassadors to give safe conduct for the return of Cardinal Mercier, primate of Belgium, to Belgium. This was refused, whereupon the pontiff answered that he would remember the unpleasant refusal.

ROME POPULACE CLAMOR FOR WAR

PARIS, Sept. 14, 1.50 a. m.—A despatch to the Havas agency from Rome says:

"At 19 o'clock yesterday morning several hundred persons, including socialists, republicans, democrats and nationalist members of the chamber of deputies gathered near the royal palace. Breaking through a cordon of police they formed in column, and following a squadron of the guard, traversed the streets cheering for Italy, the army and France. The populace massed along the route of the procession and in windows joined in the cheering and clamored for war."

RUSSIAN TROOPS ARE IN BELGIUM

LONDON, Sept. 14.—In a despatch from Ghent the correspondent of the Daily News says that after two days of investigation he has confirmed the statement that Russian troops are in Belgium.

LATEST NEWS FROM PARIS INDICATES THAT THE ADVANCE CONTINUES

LONDON, Sept. 14.—"Incontestable" is the adjective used by General Joffre, commander-in-chief of the French forces, in describing the victory claimed by the allies along the western battlefield. The latest official communication from Paris indicates that the advance is continuing all along the line with the allies' left wing now across the river Aisne.

But little news and that of the vaguest sort filters through from Germany regarding the operations in the west, though it is evident from the tone of the Berlin official statements that the people are being warned not to be too optimistic as certain reverses may be expected. The latest actual battle news in Berlin describes a forlorn from Paris on Sept. 6th which it is stated has been repulsed.

Despatches from many sources, including Vienna, indicate that the Austrian army in Galicia is in sore straits but the story of its complete destruction is evidently exaggerated, as the latest Russian reports indicate that General Ruzsky's forces are still meeting with organized resistance.

It is evident, however, from the disposition of the combatants that the Austrian center was crumpled while the left wing was hurled back into the marshes of the river San. This left wing, composed of the flower of the Austrian troops, may be caught in a trap, making unconditional surrender

AUSTRIANS CAPITULATE

LONDON, Sept. 14.—A despatch from Paris to Reuters' Telegram Co. says:

"A telegram from Petrograd to the Matin states that persistent rumors are current there that the large part of the Austrian armies capitulated yesterday."

"The figure calls attention to the fact that Italy, displaying for the first time her detachment from the triple alliance handed to the Porte a protest against the proposed abolition of the capitulations drawn up in terms identical to those sent by the triple entente powers."

"The figure announces that General Von Goltz, governor of the occupied Belgian districts, visited Antwerp provided with a safe conduct and made proposals to the Belgian government with a view to reaching an agreement. The Belgian government refused to consider these proposals."

GREAT LACK OF FOOD

ROME, Sept. 13.—11.03 p. m.—The Giornale d'Italia says that Hamburg is in a serious situation on account of food and unemployment.

A returning traveler bought the in at $2.50 a dozen; while fresh meat was in Hamburg eggs were selling there at $2.50 a dozen; while fresh meat was plentiful; all cattle having been requisitioned. The smallest quantity of fresh milk, butter and eggs is reserved for the hospitals, the remainder, together with all other available food is taken to the army storehouses.

PREPARE DEFENSIVE FORCE

ROME, Sept. 14.—The Giornale d'Italia says that Austria has removed her first line of troops from the Italian frontier, especially from Grenzschützen. The companies of their Alpine sharpshooters are needed against the Russians.

The Austrians have prepared a defensive force consisting of gendarmes and reservists of the Landwehr, besides cutting all the roads with ditches eight feet wide and ten feet deep.

The possible landing of a hostile force at Trieste, which is unfortified, has been provided for by entrenching the mountains overlooking the town and also by blockhouses built around the Gulf of Trieste. The remainder of the coast of Istria and Dalmatia has been mined.

CAVALRY LOSS APPALLING

LONDON, Sept. 14.—A despatch to the Express from Paris says:

"The German losses in cavalry are appalling. A German cavalry officer who competed at the Olympia horse show a few years ago and is now a prisoner, estimates that the wastage in cavalry horses, especially in Belgium, amounts to two-thirds of the total strength allotted to the army operating in the direction of Paris."

INVADED BY INSURGENTS

BRIDGES, via Rome, Sept. 14.—A report reaching here from Avlona, Albania, is to the effect that insurgents have invaded the villages of Zezani and burned or razed the houses and devastated the fields. The inhabitants who did not succeed in escaping were slaughtered, according to the report.

GENERAL FRENCH HERO

BORDEAUX, Sept. 14.—Gabriel Hanotaux, former minister of foreign affairs, in an article in Figaro, pays a warm tribute to General Joffre, the French army and its English allies. He considers that the honors of the day belong to the latter and to General French.

M. Hanotaux praises the delicate manner in which General French recognized General Joffre's strategic conceptions.

FRESH TROOPS FOR PURSUIT

LONDON, Sept. 14.—A despatch to the Times from Paris says:

"The general in command in Paris has a half million fresh troops under his control, which will be used presumably in pursuing the enemy."

"News that the German forces from Pont-A-Mousson to Saint Die are falling back shows that the five German armies of Generals Von Kluck, Von Bülow, Crown Prince, Frederick Wilhelm, the Duke of Württemberg, and that operating in Moselle are in retreat."

"The difficulties of the retreating armies are many and there are good chances that the allies may annihilate them before they reach the frontier. The Germans appear to be abandoning their natural route, the valley of the Oise, endeavoring to withdraw further eastward to the barren and difficult country of the Champagne, where the roads are poor and provision scant. Beyond is the forest of Ardennes and to the east the wooded and clayey ridges of the forest of Argonne, as formidable a barrier to progress as any army could have. Beyond is the Meuse most of the bridges of which will be destroyed. If they actually have abandoned the Oise valley the German lines of communication are reduced to one passing by Givet, Namur and Liege. The other passing Hesleres, Montmédy and Luxembourg, the next line to the south is commanded by the guns at Verdun."

AUSTRIAN AND GERMAN ARMIES EXCEEDED 1,000,000 MEN WITH 2500 GUNS

PETROGRAD, via London, Sept. 13, 12.40 p. m.—The following statement issued by the Russian headquarters staff describes the Russian operations culminating in the victories of Krassnik and Tarnobrz, Russian Poland: Million in Austro-German Army

"The total Austrian and German forces exceeded 1,000,000 men with 2500 guns—that is, over 40 divisions of infantry, 11 divisions of cavalry, reinforced by seven German divisions. The main body of the enemy numbered 600,000 men moved towards Zaslav and Tarnobrz, advancing on Lublin and Chelma (Russian Poland). Its right wing was covered by the Lemberg (capital of Galicia) army, numbering 200 battalions. Its left wing was covered by several Austro-German divisions around Radom (Russian Poland)."

"On Aug. 25 the Austrian armies began a determined advance to counteract the blow which was threatening eastern Russia. The development of the troops over a front of several hundred versts (a verst is approximately two-thirds of a mile) had not yet been completed. We could therefore only face the Austrians in the north with a greatly inferior force."

First Attacks at Krassnik
The first attacks of the army were directed against Krassnik, but the center of the Austrian efforts very soon was removed to Tarnobrz, a district into which their reinforcements began to pour.

On Sept. 3, when the fall of Lemberg was imminent, the Austrian advance reached a culminating point. On its frontal line the enemy extended from Opole (on the east bank of the Vistula about midway between Radom and Lublin in Russian Poland), to Rychnow, approaching within gunshot of the station at Travnik and enveloping Krassniav (31 miles south of Lublin), Zamosc and Grabosow, near Josefow (on the east bank of the Vistula, a short distance south of Opole).

Bridged the Vistula

"Two bridges were thrown across the Vistula over which troops from Radom crossed on their way to the battlefield."

"While awaiting the result of General Ruzsky's operations, our plan was based on the rapid reinforcement of our right wing. The Russian railway carried out this task very successfully. Our troops in the Chelma district, which were insufficient and too widely spread out and against which the principal attack of the Austrians was directed, did not receive reinforcements—directed for the advance of the Austrians even to Chelma itself could eventually only increase the consequences of their defeat in the event of the ultimate success of our wings."

"In spite of their numerical inferiority, our troops in the center did not confine themselves to defense. They delivered a counter-attack obtaining considerable success near Lachow, where for six days they did nothing but repeat continual attacks on the enemy. Only on Sept. 7 were they moved a little to the rear in accordance with orders received. This maneuver obtained a more enveloping disposition of our forces."

General Offensive Movement

"The successes of General Ruzsky and General Brusilov enabled us to make a general offensive movement and the enemy's center was beaten at Sukhodolye. As a result of a rapid movement among the Austrian troops at Krassnik, these were attacked by Greysky from the southwest on Sept. 8 and were forced to accept battle on three fronts. We repulsed counter attacks of the Krassnik troops and we carried, by impetuous assaults, the enemy's position on the front at Opole, Tarnobrz and extending over a distance of 60 versts on Sept. 9. They fled, abandoning their arms."

"They continued vigorously to attack our left wing in order to win success in the direction of Lemberg. However, about Sept. 12 we also resumed the offensive on this side and now the battle of Galicia, which has lasted 17 days, is drawing to an end. The pursuit of the enemy continues."

SCENE OF TREMENDOUS ENTHUSIASM FOLLOWS READING OF WAR BULLETIN

LONDON, Sept. 14.—A Petrograd despatch to the Central News describes the scene of tremendous enthusiasm on the first night of the Imperial grand opera season when a bulletin describing the destruction of the Austrian army between the rivers Bug and Dniester was read in the middle of the performance.

The Russian hymn was sung over and over again and the national anthems of the allies also were sung, while the ambassadors and ministers of those countries bowed from their boxes.

Enthusiastic demonstrations took place in the streets, the crowds almost fighting to get the newspapers.

TRAGEDY IN GARDNER

GARDNER, Mass., Sept. 14.—Jimmie Kalaria and Philip Lora were found in the street stabbed to death early last night. Whether the double tragedy is the result of a hand-to-hand duel or the men were victims of a third party is puzzling the police.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS OPENED

BUT SIX TEACHERS ABSENT THIS MORNING—RUSH AT HIGH SCHOOL

The public schools opened today with increased attendance and teachers, except six at their posts. These are understood to be with the Miss Owen party and the Kilpatrick party, both of which are expected to arrive in a day or two.

The chief difficulty in finding accommodation was experienced at the high school, where the rush was overwhelming.

No exact figures as to attendance at any school could be secured this forenoon, but new classes were being formed and arrangements made for getting down to work as soon as possible.

Yesterday noon was the initial day for opening the new and commodious dining-rooms of Agg's place, 40 Kirk street, next to the high school, and one of the most centrally located dining-rooms in the city. Mrs. Charles Hus-baud proved to her friends and patrons yesterday that she can surely present a menu that will surprise you. When a person is asked to start a menu such as was given yesterday and go through it, he must have the appetite of an elephant to finish it, for it certainly was well prepared, cooked, and the service was all that could be desired. The dining-room yesterday looked very pretty in its floral decorations, while sweet music was discoursed by the Merrimack Square Theatre orchestra, of which Mr. Hubbard is a very prominent member. There isn't a doubt that the future success of Agg's dining-room is permanently established.

PATRIOTIC HOBOES OF MANY NATIONALITIES CONDEMN WAR BECAUSE IT MAKES FOLKS STUNGY

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—War feeling broke out more than once yesterday at the Sunday gathering of the hoboes of the Brotherhood Welfare association at the Manhattan Lyceum, which it was announced would take the form of an anti-war demonstration. There was a larger demonstration than usual, and as there were hoboes of many nationalities present, there was a tendency to stir up trouble.

After several hoboes had declared themselves against the war a man named Morris Wales, who was well dressed and looked fairly prosperous, said all of the nations at war were to blame. He believed, however, that Germany was particularly responsible, he said. At this point there was a commotion at the back of the hall as a hobo shouted:

"We want fair play here!"

Shouts of "Put him out!" arose and the man replied, "Why does he say Germany is the worst?"

"Comrade" Oppenheimer, a new man in the hobo ranks here, asserted that the men who volunteered to fight for—wow, wow, wow—can go to hell, heads!" and he had no sympathy with them when they were food for bullets.

Alexander Law then introduced resolutions which were adopted by a standing vote condemning war, and calling on all the public officials of this country from President Wilson down to all ways keep in their minds the ideals of the American republic when it was founded. They also besought President Wilson to keep on trying to end the war.

The sentiment of the hoboes generally was that the war was bad for them, as it made people "stungy."

HIGH SCHOOL PROBLEM

The Lowell school board, the municipal council and all thinking people of the city must be well aware that the taking over of the Varnum property is but the first expensive makeshift of a long series unless Lowell faces its high school problem squarely and decides that a new or completely remodeled high school building or set of buildings is the most economical and the only satisfactory solution. Adequate school facilities head the list of municipal necessities, and Lowell will not have adequate school facilities until all petty patch work policies are swept aside and until competent men set out to give us a high school building in keeping with the size, importance and school requirements of the city.

Assuming that the taking over of the Varnum property—which by the way promises to develop into quite an expensive proposition—meets the most pressing difficulties this year, how long will it be satisfactory? At best it only provides in a makeshift fashion for present necessities without any provision for the future. Next year the situation will be still more acute, and it will continue to become worse as the population of the city grows and as our people see the advantages of high school education for their children. Are we then to continue crowding all our available school space to capacity, and buying up unsuitable and unsatisfactory buildings here, there and everywhere until the high school is scattered so as to make successful work impossible? To do this very long would entail an expense which would more than build a new and adequate high school, and it would entail a degree of inconvenience and inefficiency that would leave a costly heritage to future citizens.

The school authorities of former days did not figure on the future growth of the city and we are reaping the reward of their shortsightedness. Schools are absolutely essential and though there may be a shortage of money for the most pressing municipal necessities, money must be found for the maintenance of adequate school buildings while a city retains its name. There seems to be no serious shortage of money for the more purely political policies of our municipal heads, but they seem ready to adopt any specious subterfuge that postpones monetary outlay for school requirements as long as possible.

There is no minimizing the fact that this school question is a big one, but ignoring it does not help to make it less important.

The taxpayers have always been anxious to meet every demand for better educational facilities, but certain city officials give precedence to other and less essential undertakings with the result that our high school is being conducted under extreme disadvantages.

WAR THE DESTROYER

It has been stated over and over again that the present war is a losing game for every nation involved in it, and nothing is more true. Every soldier killed represents a monetary loss of almost $20,000 and this phase of the struggle alone will leave a terrible financial burden on Germany, France, England, Austria and every power that is directly engaged in the conflict. Yet this phase of the destruction of war is slight compared with the other losses—the losses in brains, in enterprise, in national vitality, in science, in art, in all that goes to build up national prosperity. Then, too, there is the loss in commercial prestige, in manufacture, in every industrial line of endeavor, in invention, in those things that had made Germany the most successful nation in times of peace. It is a loss that cannot be summed up in words, or understood, but it is a loss that will impose a heavy burden on every man, woman and child in the war nations for generations to come.

At the present time in the armies of France, Germany and England are men of great genius, intellectual attainments, inventive originality. From the ranks of the writers, educators, scientists, manufacturers, business and professional men have swarmed individuals who have made the world richer or who would have made the world richer had peace blessed their careers. No longer do they think on the human need which their enterprise or ability was to supply. With rifle and bayonet and bullet they are like beasts of prey, every nerve alert with one awful desire, to kill an enemy who may be dowered with like ability. War was the terrible agency which worked the transformation and civilization falls so much backward. One writer calls the armies "hosts of lost identity" and surely no one can measure the magnitude of that which has been lost with the identity of the frenzied fighters.

The great Pope Leo and his late illustrious successor often declared that war is the fruit of irreligion; the socialist says that it is due to ignorance of its economic aspect. To whatever it may be due, the world sees it now in no false light of romance, for it is known as the most dreadful relic of barbarism that has come down from hygienic times. The voice of the American people is raised in prayers for peace—not only for this nation but for all the sorely tried and suffering nations of the earth now suffering the dreadful horrors of war.

WAR ATROCITIES

It is yet too early to come to a final decision as to which side has been the more guilty of war atrocities during the present struggle and it is not even safe to accept the stories of excited partisans, but there are certain aspects of the fight for which even the exigencies of war at its worst do not offer justification. The dropping of bombs on cities which are non-military, the ruthless slaughter of non-combatants, abuse of women and children and many other things which have been charged by the respective sides against their opponents shock the civilized world, but there are doubtless episodes in the present war more terrible than imagination can conceive. To appeal to the Hague seems like a joke when the slenderness of the Hague ideal has been demonstrated and all the warring powers seem most desirous of cultivating the sympathy of this country. The letters from the Kaiser and English officials to President Wilson and the visiting Belgian delegation prove how anxious all concerned are for the good opinion of America, but they should and undoubtedly will be listened to with respectful and silent attention. Official comment on their contents should be reserved until the war is over and until an unbiased commission has weighed the claims of the contesting parties.

STREET MENDING

Apocryph of our honeycombed streets, travelers who have toured over the roads along the north shore can bear witness to the fact that a cavity or depression of any kind is a rarity, and any interested Lowell citizen who may be in that section can see for himself how the thoroughfares are kept in condition. When any break or hollow in the surface is discovered a repair gang is rushed to the scene, a prepared composition is poured into the hollow, crushed stone is put on top and over the whole is poured more of the binder. In a few days the repaired part is as good as new.

The Lowell way has been either to neglect the damage until it becomes a miniature valley with several others in the vicinity or to throw in crushed stone which auto traffic scatters as quickly as it is laid. Loose filling is worthless under present traffic conditions and the only scientific way to remedy street defects is to patch them with some plastic composition that will form part of the original surface on drying. Were this done consistently in Lowell as in other cities we should not have to apologize for street conditions that have become a menace and a civic disgrace.

CAMPAIGN DRIVE

Some of the campaign issues voiced by republican politicians throughout the country are the farthest drive, and the strain that gave them birth in this time of triumph for the administration is painfully evident. The war has thrown the achievements of the democratic party into grateful relief, and there is not a national issue that reflects adversely on those in power. The tariff, the currency, the Mexican situation, the foreign service, all have been vindicated wholly or in part by recent developments, and there is a general feeling that to attempt to lower the prestige of the president and his advisers is futile. It is a wise republican politician who confines himself to petty local issues and refrains from attacking the democratic administration at present. In that quarter every knock is a boost.

SEEN AND HEARD

Some time ago, Congressman Owen of Oklahoma said, Little Jimmy's food father brought him a chocolate, and for several days thereafter great was the happiness around the suburban home. One evening, on returning from work, dad noticed that the chocolate was not included in the family circle. "Where's your chocolate, Jimmy?" he inquired. "He is gone father," was the response. "Why, what do you mean?" asked father. "Did he escape?" "No, father," exclaimed Jimmy. "I put him on a piece of blue cloth and he turned blue. Then I put him on a piece of red cloth and he turned red. Then I put him on a piece of green cloth and he turned green. Then I put him on a piece of plaid cloth and he burst in to make good."

SALISBURY BEACH IMPROVED
A year ago Wednesday Salisbury beach was swept by the disastrous fire which swept the beach and left a pile of ruins over what had been a popular amusement center. Since the fire the beach has undergone a remarkable change. New buildings have been erected in place of those destroyed by the blaze, and the first anniversary of the fire finds the beach rebuilt with all its old and many new attractions, presenting a much improved appearance and retaining all the popularity of the old resort.

The property owners have made wonderful progress in rebuilding the beach, but still they are not yet satisfied and have planned numerous improvements which will be evident at the resort by another season. Everything is being done to make the beach bigger, better and busier than ever before and though the business men have encountered many difficulties they have not hesitated in devoting all their available time and money in reestablishing their stores and lending their support to all plans for the improvement of the beach.

THE LOCOMOTIVE
Poor old locomotive! It traveled years ago As handsome as a wagon in a moral mammoth show. Its pulling and its tooting brought us much joy and fear, The townsfolk took up collections to persuade it to draw near.

Its troubles came from water, which upset its system soon. Since water for a railroad is more dangerous than rain, Its habits grew up colossal. It spent more than it should. The company it sometimes found was not so very good.

Poor old locomotive! It has bunions on its heels. When it saws a job of hauling construction it reverts. We can't help sympathizing as its story it relates. As it reaches for a handout in the form of higher rates.

HAVE YOU NEURASTHENIA?

Neurasthenia is a condition of exhaustion of the nervous system. The causes are varied. Continuous work, mental or physical, without proper vacation periods, without proper attention to diet and exercise, are two of the most common causes. Excesses of almost any kind may produce it. Some diseases, like the grip, will cause neurasthenia. So also will a severe shock, intense anxiety or grief.

The symptoms are over-sensitiveness, irritability, a disposition to worry over trifles, headache, possibly nausea. The treatment is one of nutrition of the nerve cells, requiring a non-alcoholic tonic. As the nerves get their nourishment from the blood the treatment must be directed toward building up the blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills act directly on the blood and with proper regulation of the diet have proved of the greatest benefit in many cases of neurasthenia. A tendency to anemia, or bloodlessness, shown by most neurasthenic patients, is also corrected by these tonic pills. Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Two useful books "Diseases of the Nervous System" and "What to Eat and How to Eat" will be sent free by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., if you mention this paper.

WHAT UNSEXES HER
It doesn't unsex her to tell in a factory. Minding the loom from the dawn till the night. To dress a schoolful of children refractory. Doesn't unsex her in any one's sight. Work in a store—where her back aches with fatigue. Doesn't unsex her at all, you will note.

But think how exceedingly rough and Woman would be if she happened to vote! To sweat in a laundry that's torrid and torrid. Doesn't subtract from her womanly charm. And wearing the flags in an echoing corridor. Doesn't unsex her—so where is the harm? It doesn't unsex her to nurse us with bravery. Looking death's hand from its grip on the throat. But, alas! the voices grow quiverly quavery. Wailing, "Alas, 'twill unsex her to vote!"

She's feminine still when she juggles the crockery. Bringing you blithely the order you Toll in a sweatshop where life is a mockery. Just for the pittance on which she can live. That doesn't seem to unsex her a particle. "Ladies" noble—so somebody wrote. But ballots are known as a dangerous article. Woman, unsexed if you give her the vote.

SPENT THE SUMMER

SAVING MONEY — WELLESLEY GIRLS HUSTLE TO GET FUNDS FOR NEW BUILDING

BOSTON, Sept. 14.—"How much did you make? How did you make it?" These are the questions that are filling the minds of Wellesley girls just now and that will resound through the old campus when college opens next Monday, for every Wellesley girl has been working her very hardest this summer to earn as much money as she could for the Wellesley building fund, and every girl is eager to learn how all her particular friends did their parts.

It was announced last spring, soon after the burning of College hall, Wellesley's main building, that $750,000 would be given for the rebuilding of the college should the rest of the necessary $2,000,000 before Jan. 1, 1915, as soon as the news was made public all the college faculty parties became serious councils of war, and every girl debated earnestly within herself how she was to help make the needed total. The 1913 girls agreed each to bring $35 at the end of the summer.

Girls Busy All Summer

During the long vacation months the girls have been busy carrying out their plans, and now they are eager to bring in the harvest. Already some of the news of the summer campaign has floated in to Miss Margaret Griffin, last year's student president, and she can tell of curious ways in which college girls have put themselves to work.

One girl, a very dainty and pretty young lady, prominent in college society, undertook the family housework.

for the summer. She requested her mother to disburse the regular household and to pay her the moola salary, with an increase of a dollar a week. She is bringing back a snug sum of money.

Another organized a vaudeville show near Conway, N. H., where she was staying, and made $85. A 1910 girl gave a large dance in the same neighborhood with good success.

A good many of our girls have been carried by girls who organized regular college stunts at the summer places where they were staying," says Miss Griffin. "People love to do 'college' things, you know. A couple of girls made $25 by having a 'bacon bat.' That simply means they invited people to campfire suppers in the woods and allowed them to fry bacon on sticks. "People thought snapshots of typical Wellesley scenes, too, and were even so good about attending the moving picture shows of the college events that we had taken last spring.

Some Sold Vacuum Cleaners
A good many 1913 girls took advantage of an opportunity that we obtained to sell vacuum cleaners at a commission of $17, and the 1913 girls sold a lot of pencils. Those had Wellesley College Restoration Fund" printed across them.

And then—oh, there have been innumerable aids and ends of ways of getting money. Girls have sewed, and crocheted cords for underwears, and auctioned off various belongings. Everyone has taken every opportunity possible to make a little, although it has been our rule not to force gifts or subscriptions from people.

At the beginning of the summer the class of 1913 had turned in $14,000 and much more will come in next week. Each girl has pledged herself to bring $100 to the class reunion next June. Six hundred and twenty-five dollars remains to be raised, and this the girls are determined to make before the new year.

SUNDAY CHURCH EVENTS

REV. C. R. SKINNER SAID FAREWELL TO FLOCK—INTERESTING SERVICE AT FIRST BAPTIST

Rev. Clarence R. Skinner, who has given up the pastorate of the Grace Universalist church of this city to accept a professorship at Tufts college, made his last services here at the morning service yesterday. The audience was well filled and the words of the pastor touched deeply the members of the church. The sermon was preached by Rev. Howard B. Burd of San Diego, Cal.

Rev. Mr. Skinner had been stationed in Lowell for a number of years and it was with sorrow that his parishioners heard of his intentions to enter another field.

Union Meeting of Swedish Churches

Union meetings of members of the Swedish Congregational and Methodist churches of this city will be held throughout the month of October, and arrangements are already under way for three union sessions each week, beginning on Thursday night, October 15. The nights on which the meetings will be held are Tuesdays and Sundays, and they will be held alternately in the two churches. The pastors, Rev. John Elmen and Rev. Edwin T. Stromberg, will conduct the services.

Centralville M. E.

The first full meeting of the Boy Scouts will be held at 7:30 o'clock this evening. At 8:45 o'clock Thursday the regular choir rehearsal will be held and on Friday evening, at 7:30 o'clock, there will be a special meeting of the Sunday school board.

Eliot Church

At the Eliot church the pastor announced that rally Sunday would be held Sept. 27 to be followed by a week of prayer.

The Young People's society also resumed its meetings in the vestry at 5:30 o'clock. Miss Mary Richardson led the meeting, the topic being "What is a Good Education?"

The pastor conducted a service at the Old Ladies' Home in the afternoon.

First Baptist Church

Rev. J. E. Dinwiddie, assistant pastor, preached the sermon at the First Baptist church yesterday. The announcements for the week included the return of the teachers and officers of the Sunday school on Tuesday evening when the address will be given by Mr. H. V. Meyer of Boston.

An interesting feature of the Sunday school session at the First Baptist church yesterday was the showing by Mr. W. T. Shepard of a genuine clay lamp that he obtained in Jerusalem two years ago, one similar to those used in Palestine in the time of Christ, and referred to in the lesson for the day on "The Ten Virgins." Mr. Shepard told an interesting story about the lamp and also showed two coins, one a denarius or penny, and the other a mite, such as were referred to in another lesson of two weeks ago.

St. Anne's Church

At St. Anne's church yesterday Rev. Appleton Granville preached a sermon appropriate to the season. He announced that the Sunday school would open next Sunday at noon and that the full choir will sing on the church lawn for twenty minutes before the evening service.

Rev. Mr. Granville conducted a service at No. 1111 North St. last night with a large attendance. He spoke upon some problems of the war.

The building will be completed in six weeks or middle of October and will be formally opened soon after.

ITALIANS CELEBRATING

BOSTON, Sept. 14.—A three days' celebration of the Feast of St. Anthony is being held by the Italians of Revere. The celebration began Saturday evening with a band concert. The Italian district in the vicinity of St. Anthony's church, Revere street, has been beautifully decorated and last evening was illuminated.

Yesterday the celebration continued with a high mass at 10 o'clock in charge of the Rev. Fr. Ernest Rovin, pastor of the church. In the afternoon there was a parade and in line were the members of the Holy Name society of St. Anthony's, the Daughters of Maria and the St. Carmine society. In the evening there was a band concert. Tonight the exercises will close with a band concert and fireworks.

RED CROSS SHIP SAILS

WITH 30 SURGEONS AND 125 NURSES FOR THE EUROPEAN WAR FIELD

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—The steamer Red Cross, bound on errand of mercy to the European war zone, left her anchorage in Gravesend bay at 5:08 p. m. yesterday, and shortly before 6 o'clock was on her way to sea past the sandy Hook bar.

It was after many delays that the big white ship which is conveying doctors, nurses and supplies to the European war field, finally put to sea on her trans-Atlantic trip. Difficulties over the makeup of her crew, due to the fear of international complications, has at last been smoothed out.

As the Red Cross steamed down the bay with her red crosses gleaming in the sunset and her flags fluttering, the whistles of all sorts of water craft joined in a farewell chorus. Along the rail were massed the blue coated nurses forming a solid blue band above the white of the ship's side and the belt of red just below her deck.

The Red Cross carries 125 trained nurses and 30 surgeons and an equipment of thousands of pounds of absorbent cotton, bandages, drugs and surgical instruments. Her first stop will be at Falmouth, Eng.

Miss Mabel Boardman, head of the American Red Cross society, left yesterday for Manchester, Mass., to discuss with friends there the plans for organizing Red Cross relief work in New England.

SERIOUS LOSS TO Y.W.C.A.

A load of furniture, the property of the Lowell Y. W. C. A., was destroyed by fire late Saturday afternoon while it was being removed from the association's summer camp in Billerica to the quarters in John street, this city. The loss will amount to about $300.

The furniture was being removed by J. H. McDonald of this city, who owns a large motor moving van. The furniture had been packed on the truck and the chauffeur was about to start his machine when the engine back fired and the rear end of the load caught fire. The men in charge of the van at-

GERMANS SENDING REINFORCEMENTS

PARIS, Sept. 14.—A Havas Agency despatch from Petrograd says that the Germans are sending important reinforcements to the fortress of Memel (the northernmost town of the German empire on the Baltic north-east of Königsberg) which threatens Tilsit.

The Russian imperial council is examining laws for the administration of conquered Prussian and Austrian territory.

WHEAT AFFECTED BY VICTORIES OF ALLIES

CHICAGO, Sept. 14.—Important victories of the allies, accepted by the grain trade as tending to shorten the war, caused an extreme decline of 4 1-2 cents in the price of wheat on the board of trade here at the opening day.

The extreme drop was in wheat for delivery next May. This option, which at the climax of the war excitement sold at $1.32, closed Saturday at $1.20. This morning the price declined to $1.15 1-2.

ALLIES KEEPING IN CONTACT WITH ENEMY AND CROSS RIVER AISNE

PARIS, Sept. 14.—The retreat of the armies of Generals Von Kluck and Von Bülow continued at last accounts with considerable rapidity. The only official comment last night was that the allies were keeping in contact with the enemy and had crossed the river Aisne.

The whereabouts of the Germans was not revealed but it is evident that they do not intend to make a stand on the line from Rheims to Soissons and it is hardly likely, it is thought here, that they will halt their retreat before reaching Belgium. They have already made two-thirds of the distance from Proville in the department of Seine-et-Marne, to the frontier. The heavy rains of Saturday and Sunday are not likely to facilitate the movement of the famous 120 millimeter mortars that were to reduce Paris and which require forty horses to draw them.

The armies of Generals Von Heusinger and the Prince of Württemberg, which constituted the center, seem to be headed toward Reims and Mezieres, though part of this force is reported as still resisting at the south end of the forest of Argonne.

It was reported last night that the armies of the crown prince, the prince of Bavaria and General Von Heeringer had been forced across the frontier and that the entire territory of French Lorraine had been liberated.

The disposition of the German armies, if confirmed, makes another concentration in France, as suggested by certain critics, impossible. It leaves Generals Von Kluck and Von Bülow hotly pursued by the allies and menaced by an enveloping movement on the left and without hope of reinforcements except perhaps from the 60,000 troops which occupy Belgium. The latest news from Antwerp, however, shows that these are likely to be needed there to stand off the offensive movement taken by King Albert's army. Taken altogether the situation here is viewed with equanimity and the government is busy itself with ways and means for reviving trade and commerce.

GERMANS IN COMPLETE ROUT CAN NOT FIND A BREATHING PLACE

LONDON, Sept. 14.—The correspondence of the Times at Bordeaux suggests that the German rout is deepening into complete disaster; that the invaders are turning homeward by way of the Argonne and south of Verdun are likely to be cut off from the remainder, in which event they can escape only at a heavy price.

He adds: "The German rout is so complete that it is more than doubtful whether the enemy will be able to find a breathing place on the only likely position which runs through Peronne and St. Quentin. The enemy is making for a line of retreat through Charleville and Mezieres and is doing the homeward journey in record time."

AMERICAN CONSUL WILL ASK FOR RELEASE OF CAPTURED TRADERS

PEKING, Sept. 14.—At the request of the Japanese legation, the American legation has instructed William R. The German declare that the Japanese have stationed a patrol at Pinglu, Shantung.

The Japanese legation discredits Chinese reports of difficulties between the Chinese inhabitants and the Japanese troops that have landed in Chinese territory. The legation says the Japanese commanders are instructed to compensate with cash any damages to Chinese farms and other property.

TIMES CORRESPONDENT SAYS ALLIES LED OPPONENTS STRAIGHT INTO A TRAP

LONDON, Sept. 14.—A Times correspondent, telegraphing from five miles south of Provins in the department of Seine-et-Marne, says:

"I have traveled to this point practically along the whole line of the allied army, though, of course, always in the rear. General Von Kluck's host in coming down over the Marne and the Grand Marne rivers to Sezanne, 20 miles southwest of Epernay, met little opposition and I believe little opposition was expected. The allies, in fact, led their opponents straight into a trap. The English cavalry led the three German miles after the Germans and the Germans believed the Englishmen were running away. When the tremendous advance reached Provins the allies' plan was accomplished and it got no further.

"The fighting on Sunday, Sept. 6, was of a terrible character and began at dawn in the region of LaFerte. The allies troops, who were drawn up to receive the Germans, understood it would be their duty to hold on their very best in order that their attacking force at Mezieres might achieve its task in security. The battle lasted all night and

LONDON, Sept. 14.—The first stage of the battle of the Marne which from the numbers of the fighting men engaged, the extent of the line of battle and the terrific slaughter, is perhaps correctly described as "the battle of the ages" would appear to have been won by the French and British armies but the main German army is still intact and the supreme clash has yet to come.

The present week may see even more desperate encounters than any which have yet taken place. Metz, the capital of Lorraine and the chain of forts thence to Diedenhofen on the Moselle, 17 miles north of Metz, form a strong pivot for the German left, while the river courses and the dense forests on the frontier together with the strategic roads give the German army of invasion now in retreat, a splendid opportunity for defensive action should the French pursuit extend this far.

Military observers foresee all kinds of perplexing possibilities in the event of the Germans regaining the positions they held before they started the rush of their hosts on Paris particularly if they should succeed in taking back any large proportion of their forces.

BIG GRIST IN POLICE COURT

MAYNARD MAN IN FOR VAGRANCY—LARGENY OF MOTORCYCLE CHARGED

Quite a large gathering of Saturday night and Sunday drunks presented themselves in police court before Judge Enright this morning.

William Cogan was the first called on a charge of illegal selling and his case was continued until Friday.

William Haywood (not the I. W. W. leader) faced his Honor on a charge of drunkenness and begging in the square. Haywood testified that he came here to find work in the Bay State mills but was unable to do so. He told the court that he resided in Maynard and that he had always been a working man and would go back to Maynard if the opportunity. His story must have appeared to His Honor, who gave him a six months' suspended sentence.

Stole a Motorcycle

The case of Jeremiah M. Dorgan, charged with stealing a motorcycle, the property of one Emil Lebrun, was continued until Wednesday morning. He was asked to furnish bonds in the sum of $200. It seems that Dorgan went to Harry Stanley's garage on Aug. 24, and on the pretense of doing some repairs on a motorcycle belonging to Emil Lebrun, took it away with him. This was the last seen of him up to last Saturday. Lebrun reported the case to the police and as a result Sergeant Petrie made a trip to Lawrence and found Dorgan at the home of a relative. At his urgent request Dorgan was arrested by the downriver officials and later brought to this city. The prisoner admitted taking the machine and informed the officers that he motored from Lowell to Providence, R. I., where he sold the machine for the sum of $7. From Providence he traveled on freight trains to Lawrence, arriving at the latter place Friday night.

Drunkenness and Nonsupport

Philip Jalbert made his second appearance before Judge Enright on a charge of drunkenness and in the course of the testimony it was brought out that the man had a wife and child.

SURVIVORS ARE RESCUED

FROM FROZEN ISLAND—EIGHT WHITE MEN AND ESKIMO FAMILY SAFE ON CUTTER

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—Eight white men and an Eskimo family, survivors of the wrecked Canadian exploring ship Karluk, are safe aboard the revenue cutter Bear, after being marooned on frozen Wrangell Island since last January.

A relaying wireless despatch from the Bear received here last night said she was due at Nome, Alaska, yesterday.

The despatch told of the death of three explorers on the island, George S. Malloch, geologist; Burnie Mannen, assistant topographer, and John Brady, seaman.

Capt. Cochran, report said: "Bear is now returning to Nome with the following members of the Canadian Arctic expedition: "Suro, Williamson, McKinley, Hadley, Chaf, Templeman, Williams, Mather, Eskimo family."

"All doing well under care of surgeon. Will arrive Nome Sunday."

"Party was rescued by schooner King and Wing on Sept. 7. Transferred to Bear Sept. 8, lat. 69 degrees, 55 minutes north; long. 175 degrees 30 minutes west."

"Malloch and Nansen died of nephritis. Brady accidentally shot. There are eight missing persons who never reached Wrangell Island."

"The Bear reached within 12 miles of Herald Island. Clear weather and heavy ice. Unable to land on the island, but saw no signs of life."

CARDINAL FARLEY ILL

LONDON, Sept. 14.—A despatch to the Daily Chronicle from Milan says Cardinal Farley, who was taken seriously ill at Naples Saturday when about to embark for New York, has been removed to Amalfi.

The cardinal's condition is said to be such that he has been compelled to abandon all ideas of a speedy return to the United States. He is said to be suffering from heart trouble.

TYRRELL HOUSE BURNED

DWELLING IN TEWKSBURY WAS TOTALLY DESTROYED BY FIRE YESTERDAY

The summer home of John Tyrrell, located in Tewksbury near the electric car trestle in Rogers street, was totally destroyed by fire yesterday forenoon. The building contained three rooms well furnished, and all is a total loss.

It is believed the fire started by an overheated stove. The flames were discovered shortly after 9 o'clock and, despite Mr. Tyrrell's efforts and that of several neighbors, the house was burned to the ground.

Fred C. Church carried the insurance on the building.

HAVERHILL WORKER DESPONDENT OVER THE DEATH OF HIS WIFE

HAVERHILL, Sept. 14.—Joseph Manning, 60, a former superintendent of the city stables at Concord, N. H., committed suicide at 4 o'clock yesterday morning at Emery's stables, where he was employed, by putting a bullet through his brain.

Saturday night, at his lodgings at 13 Vestry street, before going to his work Manning collected a number of keepsakes, among which were a photograph of his wife and himself, certificates of membership in the Odd Fellows, Knights of Pythias and Red Men.

At 5 o'clock yesterday morning the body of Manning was found on a couch at the stables where he had committed suicide. Despondency over the death of his wife, who died several years ago, is the probable cause of his act. According to remarks made by him some time ago he made a similar unsuccessful attempt at suicide shortly after the death of his wife.

DEMOCRATIC VICTORY

IS PREDICTED IN TODAY'S ELECTION IN THE STATE OF MAINE BY LOCAL PROPHECY

A gentleman who has been down in Maine and sized up the political situation there states that before McCall's visit the republicans were assured of a good triumph in today's election but after McCall had stirred up the progressives the democrats felt the sure of victory. The prediction, therefore, is that a great democratic victory is scored in today's election.

STORY OF NEW ONE IS CONFIRMED—LEDGES IN BROAD PASS VERY VALUABLE

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—Daniel Guggenheim, head of the Guggenheim interests, received a telegram yesterday from Stephen Birch, managing director of the Morgan-Guggenheim Alaskan mining syndicate, confirming the reports of a remarkable gold discovery in Broad Pass on the Sista river, Alaska. Mr. Birch said he was on his way to this city with samples of the ore.

The discovery, it is predicted, will create a new era of prosperity in this country and already has started another rush of prospectors to Alaska. News of the find spread like wildfire through the region and hundreds of gold seekers have poured into the pass during the past week to stake out claims.

"The news of the discovery is true," said Mr. Guggenheim last night, "and Mr. Birch is on his way to this city with complete information regarding it. He did not care to trust the information on the wires and consequently is making the journey from Alaska to convey the news in person. We have expected this news for some time, for every geologist who has been to that region knows that it is extremely favorable for gold and other valuable minerals."

The discovery will afford employment to thousands of men, for the recovery will not be made by placer mining, as in the Klondike, but by smelting and cyaniding. This means getting back to the old pick and shovel game and hundreds of prospectors already have entered the region with their kits to stake out claims and start operations.

"Many will want to get into the gold region. The government must recognize this fact now and prosecute the construction of the railroads in Alaska. The discoveries will not be available until this is done. I believe they contemplate constructing 1000 miles of railroads in the country to open the region. The work should be pushed at once because for every hundred miles of railroad built the country surrounding it will be opened up ten hundred miles."

According to reports from the region where the strike was made, the ore is rich in gold, averaging 100 to 2000 feet wide. One of the 100-foot ledge assays $15 a ton straight across. A 14-foot pit struck on the hanging wall averages better than $250 a ton. The discovery is said to surpass any yet made in South Africa. The least valuable of the ledges are said to eclipse the Treadwell and other Juneau ledges.

CITY HALL DEPARTMENTS

Supt. Thomas Says 125 Men are Employed on New Filtration Plant—The Contract Awarded

According to the registrars of voters the chief of the state police, whose decision will be final.

Was Omitted

In the list of heavy taxpayers of this city published Saturday, the name of Maria C. Collins was omitted. Mrs. Collins' taxes amount to $591.44.

Contract Awarded

At noon today in the water department office at city hall the bids for the contract for all the work to be done on the new filtration plant with the exception of the excavation were opened and the contract was awarded to the lowest bidder, Charles E. Boyd of Boston, whose bid was $94,214.75. The other bidders and their bids were as follows: Conners Bros., $113,347; Bruno & Pettit, $129,000; William Pike, $150,895; D. H. Walker, $102,221.50. In Mr. Walker's bid two items had been omitted.

Filtration Plant

Supt. Morse of the water works department informed The Sun this morning that about 125 men are now at work on the erection of the filtration plant on the boulevard and the work is being pushed along rapidly. The pre-filter and one filter are ready for the concrete and the second filter is nearly finished. The men are now employed on the clear water basin and the excavation which is to be 12 fact has now reached a depth of four feet. The contracts for the cast iron pipe for the job have been awarded to the Standard Pipe Co. and that for the drain pipe has been given to Edward Cawley.

No more men will be hired on the job for some time for the superintendent believes he has as big a gang as the job will stand. More men, he said, will not work to advantage on account of lack of room. In a couple of weeks the four water mains from the boulevard to the inlet at the river at the corner of Starbird street and Varnum will be no meeting of the national commission this year for the purpose of drafting players from the minors. The drafting will be done, according to Mr. Hiernmann, but in a new way. Just what this new way is, he said, he could not outline at this time.

IN FACT SEVERAL REASONS

One of the main reasons is that it takes less room in the kitchen. You get the same size oven and fire box and instead of the protruding hearth and ash pan in front, you get another shelf on the top of the range giving you more room for kettles so that you have a range as large in oven and fire box and larger on top and takes less space, gives a better balance, more symmetrical shape stove and of course has all the Crawford features including single damper, which alone is worth the price of the stove as all using it say. AMONG THE TOILERS

Fred Thomas, formerly of the Talbot mills, North Billerica, succeeds M. J. Pierce as agent of the Bay State mills of this city.

Marty O'Connell, formerly employed at the Middlesex company, has accepted a position with the J. W. Barry shoe company.

James Cuff, of the Stirling mills, has expressed his intention of witnessing the Langford-Johnson go, in Boston Tuesday evening.

U. Michael A. Lee, is as successful in his candidacy for representative as in adding the carpenters he will surely garner a large vote. The carpenters are with him to a man.

Peter Golden of the American Hides and Leather company, has decided that the weather is getting a bit too cold for sampling. Hence he will be seen around more regularly.

Charlie Thomas, formerly employed at the American Hides and Leather Co., is delighted with the open life that the building trade affords. Charlie is now working for father.

Louise and her three lady friends, all of whom are employed at the U. S. Hunting company, thought it quite smart when they unanimously blew out the last match of a certain young man possessed after the band concert last evening.

George Grady, of the Lowell Bleachery, was shown his civic pride in "fame" who witnessed the defeat of the "braves" in Boston Saturday. George is optimistic, however, and predicts that the team will surely be an opposing factor with the Athletics in the world's series.

Osgood Mills
Overtime work four nights a week has been in force for some time at the Osgood mills, North Andover.

Baldardvale Mills
Following a shutdown of three weeks, operations have been resumed at the Baldardvale mills, Baldardvale, Mass.

Franklin (Mass.) Mills
Some of the mills in Franklin, Mass., are seriously affected at the present time, owing to the seizure of a load of burlap, which was to have been manufactured by the mills of that town.

Namkeek Helps Salem

The Namkeek Steam Cotton Co., Salem, Mass., has shown its civic pride in a most unusual manner. In order to relieve the finances of Salem, this concern paid its tax bill, amounting to $26,183, six weeks before it was due, and more remarkable still, no rebate was asked because of the loss of the April 1, when the bill was made out. The management of the Namkeek is certainly living up to its reputation for not only doing its duty but a little more.

Moved to Providence

The Union Webblu company, formerly of this city, is now located on the second floor of the Grosvenor building in the Weymouth section of East Providence. The removal is almost completed, and the manufacture of inside and outside bellings and neck-ties was begun last week. The concern will employ between 50 and 60 hands and has a payroll of about $400 which will be increased when contemplated night work is started. The company has made application to the East Providence town council for an exemption from taxation on its personal property for a period of ten years, and the matter is being considered.

Typographical Union

It is interesting to note that the International Typographical union has increased its membership 1804 in the last year. Local No. 210 of Lowell is in a very solid financial condition and takes a ranking place with the large number of enterprising locals that go to make up this great international union. The Lowell union has been widely advertised in the Typographical Journal, the mouthpiece of the organization which is published monthly, as a result of the convention held in this city a few months ago, for hospitalities, such as has never been surpassed at any other convention of its kind.

Types Change Day of Meeting

Lowell Typographical union held a largely attended and enthusiastic meeting in Carpenter's hall in the Russell building yesterday afternoon with the president in the chair. Three new members were admitted. Committee reports of considerable importance were received and favorably acted upon. Harry Mosley, delegate to the 60th annual convention of the Typographical union, held in Providence, reported on the doings of the convention. The report proved to be most interesting and Delegate Mosley was given a great deal of the close of the remarks. Another important matter considered was the proposition advanced at a previous meeting to change the time of holding the regular meetings of the local organization. With a view to increasing the attendance, it was unanimously voted to hold the meetings in the future on the third Saturday evening of each month. A committee was then appointed to arrange for entertainments, speakers or any other social attraction for the enjoyment of the members at the meetings. The committee appointed was as follows: John E. MacCallum, chairman; William Kelly, James Hennessey, John McCarthy, James Wilson, Joseph Stearns, J. J. Belong. The refreshments com-

General Labor Notes

A district council of the 18 locals of the Ladies' Garment Workers in New York and Brooklyn will be established.

The Minnesota State Federation of Labor is negotiating for a minimum wage of $10 for girl workers.

On Sept. 14 at New York city, International State and Tile Roofers' union of America will convene.

Officers of the Longshoremen's union predict that they will soon have 100,000 members along New York's waterfront.

On Sept. 14 at Milwaukee, Wis., Bakery and Confectionery Workers' international union of America will meet in convention.

Nashville, Tenn., is preparing for the entertainment in October of the annual convention of the United Garment Workers of America.

Wages paid in Germany in the present year so range all the way from 7 to 10 per cent lower than was paid in the last quarter of 1913.

A number of club women in Touma, N. M., have started a movement to compel managers of department stores to provide seating capacity for their employees.
